Future

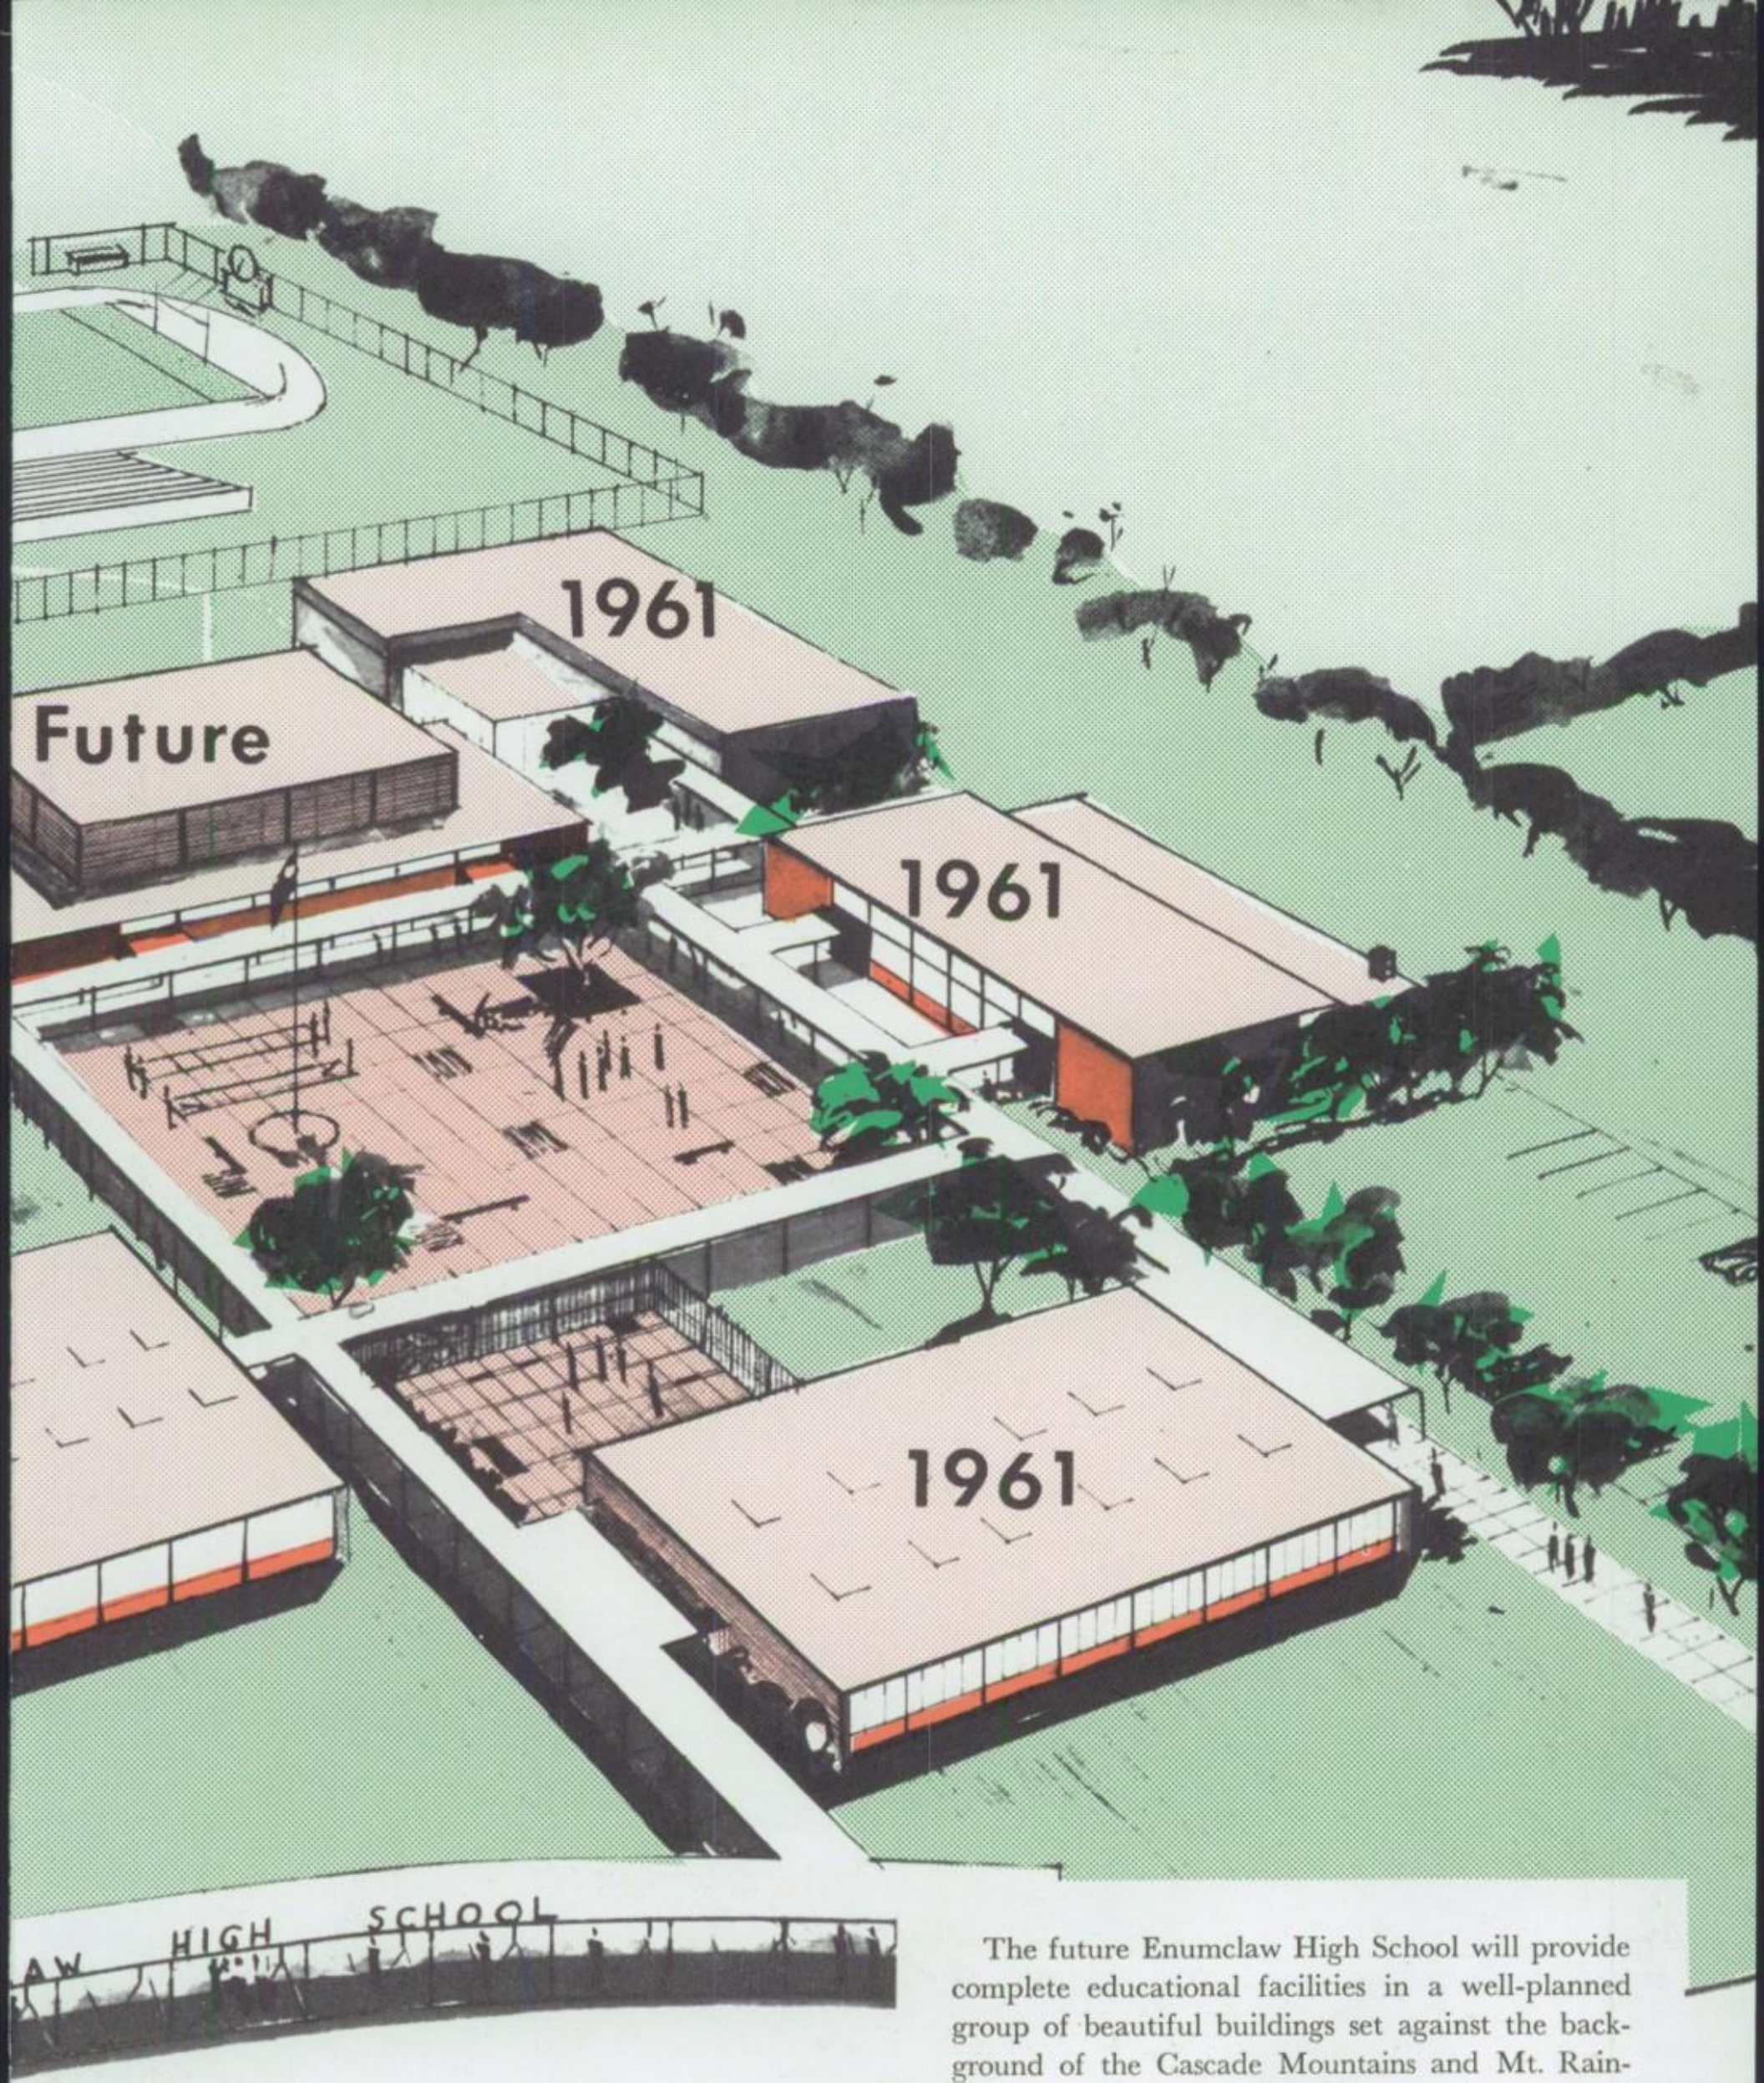
1961

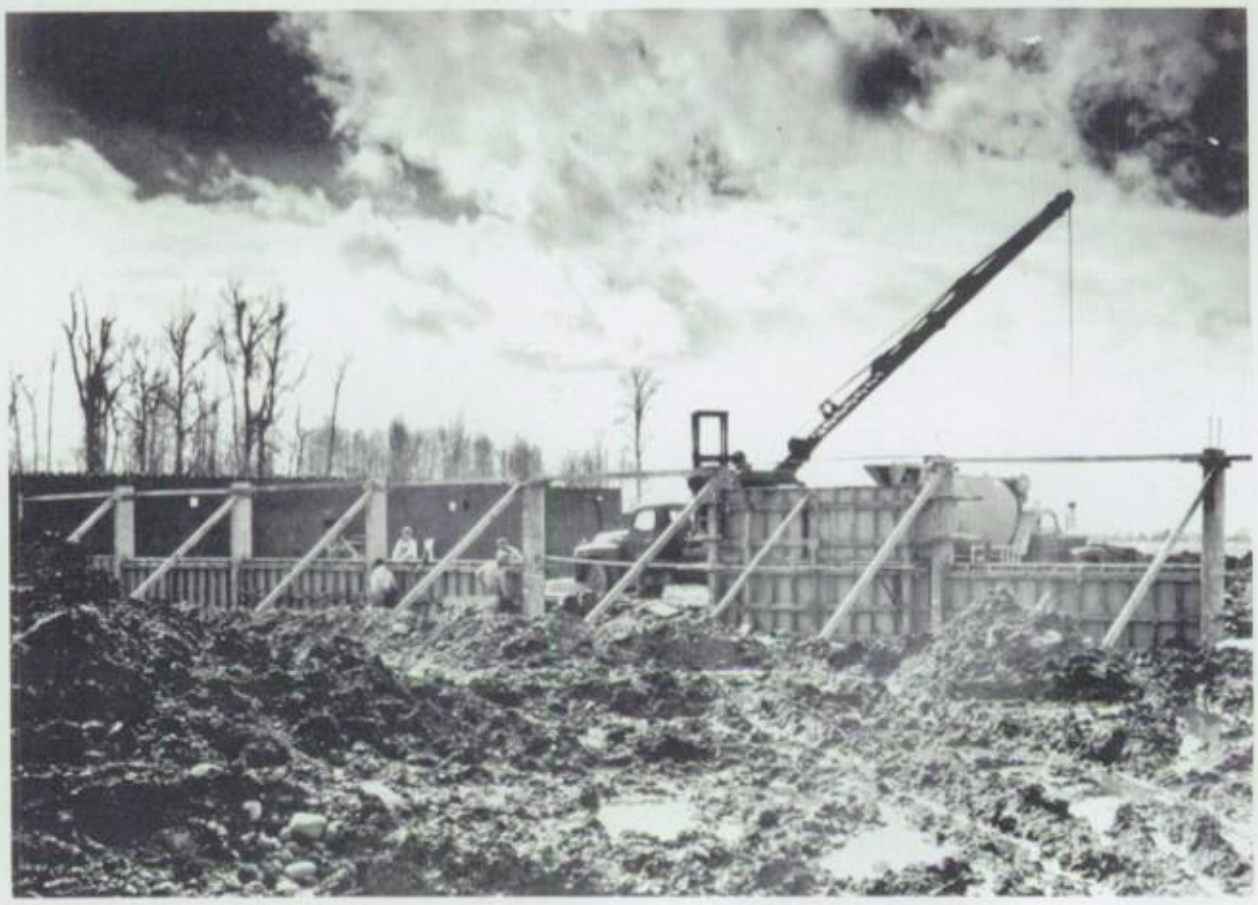


The future Enumclaw High School will provide complete educational facilities in a well-planned group of beautiful buildings set against the background of the Cascade Mountains and Mt. Rainier. It may be years before this plan is completed but when it is Enumclaw will be proud of having one of the most modern and beautiful high schools in the State of Washington.

CASCADIAN 1961

Enumclaw High School

Enumclaw, Washington



Miss Isabel Keir

For 22 years Miss Keir, with all the vigor and sincerity at her command, has taught the fundamentals of English to Enumclaw 8th and 9th grade students. Hundreds of senior high and college students have expressed mental thanks to Miss Keir because her insistence that they master readin' and writin' has made it easier for them in the upper grades and in college. They thank her also because her progressive teaching of geography and social studies has given them the basis for greater understanding of the people and the countries of the world.

Miss Violet Cass

Since 1938 nearly every student who has graduated from E.H.S. has taken science from Miss Cass in either 8th or 9th grade. In addition, Miss Cass has initiated progressive methods in remedial education, has developed the Scholarship and Torch Clubs to a high level, has for years conducted an effective summer school program, and through her biology classes has planted an arboretum in the school forest plot which for hundred of years should be a reminder and testimony to her many contributions to the Enumclaw schools.

We Dedicate . . .

Two very deserving teachers share the dedication for the 1961 Cascadian.

For 23 years both have made an effective contribution to senior high through their work in junior high. While at Enumclaw they have trained and made thousands of students ready for future high school years. Everyone of us has benefited from their efforts.

Because of the separation of junior and senior high next year we will no longer benefit from daily association with you, Miss Keir and Miss Cass, but we know you both will continue to give others the inspiration and pleasure that you have given us. It is with deep sincerity that we dedicate to you, jointly, the 1961 Cascadian.

Forward

With this 1961 Cascadian came new buildings, new ideas, new plans, and new policies — a cluster of four new "buildings" for the new high school . . . "ideas" for improving the educational program . . . "plans" for the future of our new school . . . and "policies" affecting the separation of junior and senior high.

Our theme this year is "Construction of the New E.H.S." On the end sheets we have presented the artist's sketch of the "ultimate" Enumclaw High School; on the title page we bid farewell to the old and salute the new; and on the division pages our artist shows the beginning of construction, the student lounge, and an athletic director's dream.

Our dream is an ever-growing Enumclaw with ever-improving schools. As Enumclaw expands beneath the towering, snowcapped peaks of the Cascades (the inspiration and the namesake for the "Cascadian"), so will its educational facilities expand on the level, 153 acre site where the first buildings of the new high school are being built this year. And Mt. Rainier, standing like a fortress in the sky, will forever shelter the Enumclaw community and its youth of tomorrow.

Also in this Cascadian is recorded the year you have all enjoyed. Faculty and students alike will turn again and again to this book and relive the year just by browsing through its pages. It is yours to treasure and keep, and we hope it will be for you, as it is for us, a farewell to the past, a record of the present, and a salute to the future E.H.S.

Administrators Plan

They say you can't tell a book by its cover and the same can be said about a school.

We know that our new high school will be quite a change from our present building, and when the next phase is completed, it will provide facilities far superior to those we now have. Yet like the book and its cover, a school that looks good on the outside needs students on the inside who have a desire to learn. We are proud at Enumclaw of our traditions, and being a good student is one of our best.

With enrollment at an all-time high this year the administrators and the school board were faced with the urgent job of rushing the new high school to completion. The 840 students, jam-packed into the

After opening the bids Nov. 17 the Enumclaw School Board had to tackle the hard job of deciding which construction companies to hire. Pictured at the bid opening are: Mr. Floyd West, Mr. Jack Thim, Mr. Bogdan (District Business Manager), Mr. Paul Pugh (President of the Board), Superintendent Smith, Mr. Stephen Slivinski, and Mr. Robert Abramson.

New High School

The new High School is another step in the renovation and expansion of the educational facilities of Enumclaw. It is a result of co-operative planning by Citizen Groups, P.T.A., School Board, Administration, Architects, Teachers and Students. It is hoped the building will serve as an educational center for many, many years.

However, a building is no better than the product it develops. So the success of this one will depend on how well each of you use the facilities to further develop your potential.

You and you alone will determine the value of this building.

Making final decisions and corrections on the blueprints for the new high school was a tedious and exacting job well done by (l to r) Vice Principal Warren, Mr. Bogdan, Superintendent Smith, and Principal Gramann.

Scarred 40 year-old desks and a 1959 TV made a strange combination last year in the room where Mr. Symonds had taught for 12 years. Last year a peek into the old room revealed students busy listening to one of the 7:30 A.M. Spanish programs. The TV was only the beginning of modern equipment for the Spanish department. Faculty Strives Presidential candidates Richard Nixon and John Kennedy differed last fall about progress in the United States, but there is no doubt at E.H.S. of the progress made the last few years under the direction of the school administration and faculty.

"Progress" was just a word in the pre-World War II period of the 1936—40 during which three of our present teachers (Mr. W. Thomas, Miss Cass and Miss Keir) joined the Enumclaw faculty. But many changes came between the post — war years of 1945 to 1949 with the coming of new faculty members, students, and fresh ideas. Present staff members arriving during those years were Mr. G.

for Progress

Campbell, Mr. R. Campbell, Mrs. North, Mr. Waldron, Mr. Symonds, and Mr. Teeter. Among the new ideas was the consolidation of Buckley and Enumclaw during the years from 1949—1953.

During deconsolidation and the years immediately following, 1951—1956, eight more of our teachers joined the staff, but not many new ideas in teaching were introduced as school talk was mainly of a new high school and where to build it. Teachers who came during this period were Mr. Sill, Mr. Osborne, Mr. Ronhaar, Miss Gall, Mr. Salsgiver, Mr. Hash, Mr. Walden, and Mrs. Caviezel.

One of the newest improvements in teaching equipment this year is the Spanish laboratory. With its installation during the summer of 1960 the E.H.S. language department became as well equipped as any in the state. The complete language laboratory will be transferred to the new building next year.

Faculty Introduces New Methods and Ideas

Little changed at Enumclaw Junior-Senior High School for a few years following deconsolidation with the Buckley district in 1953, but beginning in 1956, the year Miss Neth and Mrs. Symonds joined the staff, changes began to come rapidly in school population, staff, curriculum and building plans.

The faculty increased from 34 in 1956 to 41 currently. This increase, plus resignations, many of teachers who were accepting science and math scholarships under the Federal NDEA law, brought 22 new teachers to EHS from 1958 through 1960. All the teachers pictured on these two pages and the next page, except Miss Neth and Mrs. Symonds, came during these years.

Advances in curriculum and school services brought some new faculty members and created new assignments for others. One new position was that of testing Supervisor and Home Counsellor and Mr. Spithill joined the staff to fill that position. The team-teaching experiment in a 100-student algebra class, which was started by Principal Gramann last year and received wide attention on television and in educational publications, was continued this year by Mr. J. Thomas and Mr. Radliff. An additional team-teaching project, a 60 student U.S. History class, was started this year by Mr. Borreson and Mr. Radliff.

This year's 41 member teaching team will not long remain as a group, for when the new EHS construction is through many of the teachers will transfer from their familiar surroundings to new ones and to different problems which they will face in the new high school.

Enumclaw faculty and students both enjoyed listening and dancing to the music of Gene Atkins at the Homecoming dance. Mr. Les Walden, our band director, and his lovely wife are pictured above.

Play Mellows Faculty

"All work and no play makes a grumpy teacher!" is an old saying that students have voiced for ages. This isn't true today. Besides teaching, the faculty members have other enjoyments like their bowling teams, golf matches, chaperoning our formal dances, church activities and community service activities.

Wondering exactly what keeps our good-natured E.H.S. teachers from being grumpy despite heavy teaching loads in an overcrowded building, we made a survey of teachers' extra-curricular activities. Sports appeared to be the number one "grump-chaser," for many teachers, both men and women, go golfing, bowling, skiing, fishing, hunting, swimming, and boating. Travel during vacations lures some, while others take their relaxation at home farming, gardening, home remodeling, writing and painting.

Every school day we can always find Mrs. Bert Spangler and Mrs. Selma Schweikl behind the food counter serving the students of EHS. Mrs. Spangler has served us for six years and Mrs. Schweikl five years.

With a happy smile and cheerful "hellos" Mrs. Miller serves us sundaes and milk shakes every noon. She is assisted by some of the FHA members. Mrs. Fraley, left, sometimes substituted.

They Make E. H. S. an A-1 School

They may not have a college degree or a teaching certificate but without them we could have no school. Our bus drivers, custodians and cafeteria workers are as necessary to our education as the faculty, and to those cheerful, generous people we would like to give a grateful "thank you."

Although these people are all equally important to us, the Cascadian would like to especially salute the custodians who serve us not only the nine months of the school year but also during the summer months by working daily to improve our school. Harry Christensen, head custodian for 18 years, in addition to his regular duties works on many special evening occasions and is called back to school by emergencies seven days a week at all hours. Mrs. Manowski, our only woman custodian, has for seven years come to work at 5:30 a.m. each day, and in addition to her regular duties performs hundreds of little services for students. Fred Weber, who has served us for eight years, interrupts his daily work dozens of times to cheerfully perform extra jobs for students and faculty, and Chet Johnson for five years has locked up at 10:00 p.m. and each night he has toured our three-story building turning off lights left burning by late working students and faculty.

Dusting, sweeping, and washing windows were just some of the duties of the EHS Custodians. These were evenly divided among these people, Mr. Christensen, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Goodale, Mr. Weber, and (not pictured) Mrs. Manowski.

Besides their daily routes to and from school the bus drivers took us to our out-of-town games, a service we all appreciated tremendously. Our bus drivers this year were: SEATED (l to r): C. Johnson, E. Storm, H. Allen, G. Goodale, P. Shumway, H. Kennedy, C. Malidore. STANDING: J. Billingsley and H. Morgan.

After serving us for 18 years Mr. Clarence Malidore plans to retire during the next year. We will miss his smile which warms everyone, even on cold winter days.

The junior high Scholarship officers this year were: Pat Clem, President, (Center); Laurie Leinonen, Vice-Pres.; Jean Sorenson, Sec.-Treas.

Members of the Scholarship Club, junior high scholarship honor organization, were: ROW 1: M. Stobie, L. Ingram, B. Duncan, D. Todnem, P. Kranz, B. Gramann, W. Kindsvogel, N. Pugh, S. Bendt. ROW 2: R. Abramson, E. Weston, P. Davies, O. Leinonen, P. Brown, K. Siskar, M. Pendlebury, P. Watson, T. Bryant, K. Giles, S. Cerne. ROW 3: J. Rogers, J. Christiansen, D. Kovacevich, J. Clubs Honor Top Scholars

Torch Society, the senior high National Honor Society and the junior high Scholarship Club strive to promote interest in high quality academic work and to reward students for receiving high scholastic standings.

Students qualify for Torch by maintaining a 3.33 grade average. Out of 832 students enrolled in E.H.S., Torch and Scholarship Clubs had 89 members at the beginning of the year. The eighth grade class led in membership with 26 students. Other classes qualified members as follows: freshmen, 21; sophomores, 19; seniors, 12; and juniors 11.

The main project of Torch Society and the Scholarship Clubs this year was a magazine sale to raise money to provide scholarships for graduating seniors. The clubs also issued honor roll publicity and made information available on scholarships to all students.

The Torch officers, proud of their accomplishments this year, pose for a picture with their adviser, Miss Cass. The officers are: SEATED: Alice Cunningham, President; Sharon Anderson, Secretary-Treasurer; STANDING: Fred Weston, Vice-President, and Miss Cass.

Torch Society members this year were: ROW 1: A. Cunningham, P. Parmenter, C. Silvestri, N. Williams, A. Hartill, J. Dal Santo, K. Smith, B. Spangler, C. Brauner, K. Riverside. ROW 2: A. Petersen, K. Gunderson, C. Weddle, S. Stulken, V. Olsen, C. Steiert, K. Hansen, K. Petersen, L. Cerne, S. Anderson, C. Moeller, L. Berilla, A. Khvoroff. ROW 3: F. Weston, T. Brown, D. Kovacevich, J. Leinonen, B. Corlett, D. Campbell, J. Tice, D. Stroufe, G. Potocnik, M. Bush, M. Sorensen, P. Gunderson, K. Sargent. Torch members not pictured are: B. Sargent, F. Bannister, N. Emerson, P. Mlachnik, R. Peterson.

Our education last fall was sometimes flavored by the presidential elections. Many English, social studies, speech, and other classes used the campaign in daily work. Pictured during a debate in U.S. History are (l to r) L. Cerne, S. Gause, S. Johnson, G. Morris, J. Carnino, and G. Allen.

1960-61 Stressed Academic Progress

Superior scholarship and academic progress were equally stressed at E.H.S. during 1960-61 even though crowded conditions, caused by 832 students being crammed into a 650-student building, created many problems.

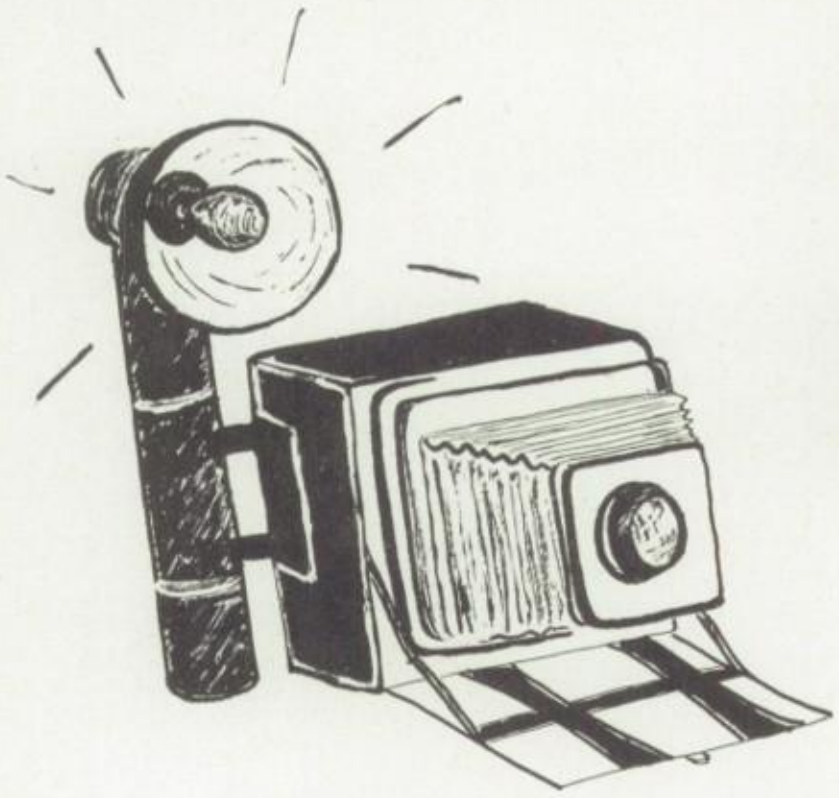
Although Enumclaw made full use of the National Defense Education Act to improve the teaching of science, mathematics and foreign languages, the reorganization of the English department received the greatest emphasis. Under the leadership of Mrs. Symonds, the English teachers met frequently to coordinate and strengthen the teaching of English in grades 8 through 12.

A modern foreign language laboratory strengthened the teaching of Spanish this year, and last year's 100-student algebra class, which put Enumclaw with the nation's leaders in team teaching experiments, became regular procedure. In addition the team teaching technique was extended to a U.S. history class.

A team teaching experiment in algebra which last year brought state-wide attention to Enumclaw became regular procedure this year. In addition to this 100-student algebra class, team teaching was also tried in a 60-student history class.

Crowded conditions were quite a problem because the new high school was a year behind schedule. Classes were put in every vacant corner of the building. Pictured is Mr. Lancaster's history class which was one of four classes held daily in the cafeteria.

A modern language laboratory which will be moved to the new high school next fall was in use for the first time this year and Mr. Symonds' Spanish students found that the new equipment was really useful in their studies.



The efficient work of eight juniors helped the Cascadian staff meet every deadline on time. Pictured are: FRONT: Sharon Edwardson, Alice Broo, and Joan Carnino. BACK: Kathy Darby and Judy Dille. STANDING: Audrey Petchnick, Barb Spangler and Arleen Rogers.

Industriously launching their efforts for a greater annual, the staff members wholeheartedly took over the job of planning and producing the 1961 yearbook.

The crew began by planning the layouts and pictures, writing copy, and creating headlines. The many laborious hours spent by Denny Collins and Bob Thompson taking and developing pictures put the "Cascadian" in full scale operation.

Sharee Knock, Editor-in-Chief, led the 1961 Cascadian staff through the throes of compiling the yearbook. Kathy (Carlson) Boyle was co-editor until wedding bells made her ineligible. Mary Warner was Senior editor, and two first year seniors were LaVerne Hawthorne and Diane O'Donnell.

One of the hardest jobs on the staff was held by Jan Hunt, business manager, who had charge of promoting advertising and sales, writing bills, and collecting money. Jan not only raised the money to meet a record budget but also helped many of the staff to meet their deadlines.

Mr. G. Campbell, faculty adviser, directed his efforts toward helping the staff plan better layouts and pictures and write interesting stories and captions.

NNUAL

Starting with an ambitious crew and three good foremen, the Hornet staff efficiently produced 13 issues of the Hornet and three of Accent, a news magazine newly started this year.

Marilyn Maras edited the first five issues of the Hornet then took on the dual responsibility of feature editor of the Hornet and associate editor of the magazine. Joyce Mosier was Hornet editor for the last eight issues, with Betty Baarstad as news editor. Francie Romedo was editor of Accent. Keeping the budget for both publications was a job well done by Sandi Vincent. Other positions were held by Sharon Calvert, circulation editor, and Roy Darby, sports editor. Vivian Osborn, a first year senior on the staff, worked on Car of the Month feature.

While reporters Helen Agafonow and Janet La Brash (FRONT) Michelle Harp and Pam Berstler (ROW 2) work on stories Sports Editor Roy Darby checks some football scores.

The magazine, Accent, was started as an experiment to publish creative writing by students and to publicize school achievement. The first issue was the Christmas edition, and its success led to a spring edition and Senior edition.

This year our 1960-61 Cascadian outlines the hard work and activities of our band director, Mr. Les Walden. Under his direction and leadership the band has provided musical entertainment for concerts, football and basketball games, and many other school and community activities.

Because of his outstanding personality, eagerness, and numerous abilities, Mr. Walden is able to gain the cooperation of all his students. People, young and old, could be assured of hearing music they would enjoy whenever the Enumclaw band performed. Spring and Fall Concerts were held on November 22 and May 12 with outstanding success.

Despite of his busy schedule, Mr. Walden still finds the time to supervise our yell and song staff throughout the entire year.

Thanks, Mr. Walden! Thanks for your services, your talent, and your outstanding leadership through which we all have benefited.

Blended Voices Produce Heavenly Music

Known as the "L.D.K. Trio" were Linda Berilla, Don McDaniels, and Karen Korte.

The vocal departments, under the direction of Mr. Bob Estby, presented varied musical productions during 1960-61. Among these were The Spring Concert (May 12) and the Fall Concert (Nov. 22). The choir also performed at P.T.A. meetings, in a Christmas program, and in choral contests. The cream of the crop traveled to Evergreen to participate in the annual solo and en semble contest held on April 15.

Aiding Mr. Estby were his chorus officers: Linda Berilla, pres.; Betty Baarstad, vice pres.; and Cheri Ahmann, sec.-treasurer.

A talented addition to our chorus was a transfer from Evergreen High School, Anesia Khvoroff. Anesia's specialty was accompanying the concert choir on her violin.

Members of the Girls' Glee Club were: ROW 1: P. Brown, P. Watson, K. Miller, D. Schut, L. West, J. Kurfurst, C. Silvestri, M. Williamson, C. Olsen. ROW 2: C. McIntosh, L. Jones, C. Omana, M. Pendlebury, J. Younger, J. Smith, S. Bendt, L. Chaplick, H. McIntosh, K. Lueke. ROW 3: J. Gray, M. Karlson, K. Siskar, S. Kladnick, K. Gunderson, C. Weddle, M. Joswick, D. Spencer, N. Pugh, J. Paulson, S. Gallian. BACK ROW: J. LaBree, D. Smith, J. Lucchesi, S. Sherwood, C. Chaussee, M. Haugen, J. Paulson, C. Ogard, P. Davis, J. Sorensen, J. Christiansen, V. Porter.

Inspiring the chorus with his enthusiasm was our choral director, Mr. Bob Estby.

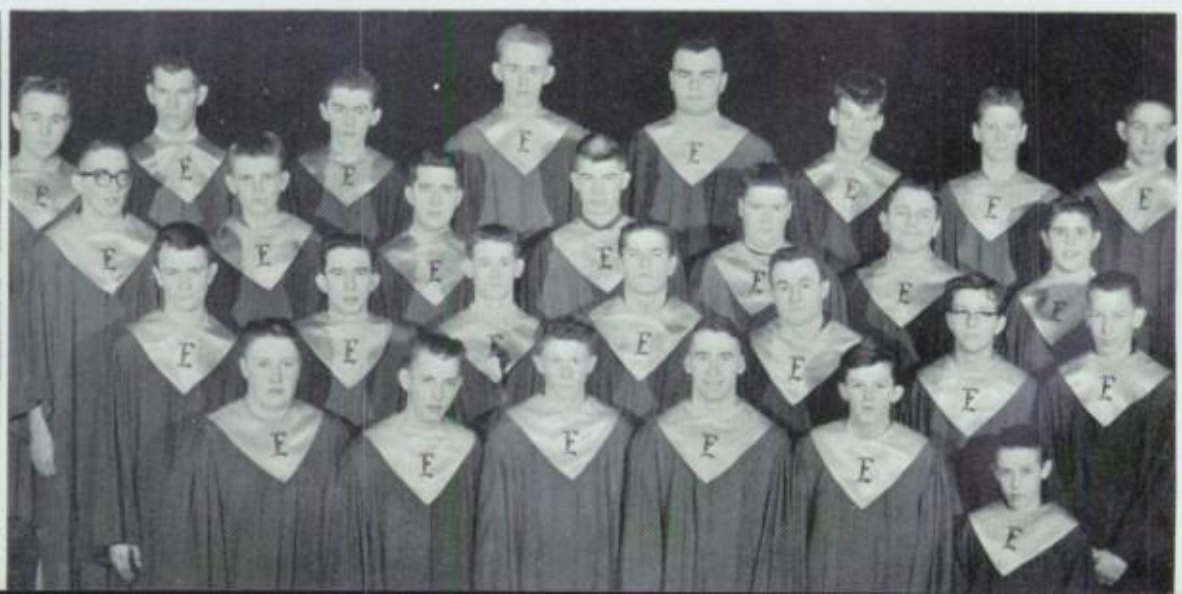
Providing vocal entertainment for E.H.S. students and parents who attended concerts was the Girls' Sextet consisting of K. Korte, A. Khvoroff, C. Ahmann, N. Umek, K. Dobson, and C. Sorensen.

Participating in many musical functions were these twelve vocal soloists. STANDING around the piano are P. Watson, A. Khvoroff, D. Leaf, J. Baarstad, M. Ross, J. Francis, H. Satterland, C. Sorensen, M. Sorensen, L. Cavanaugh, D. Smith, and SEATED, M. Powers.

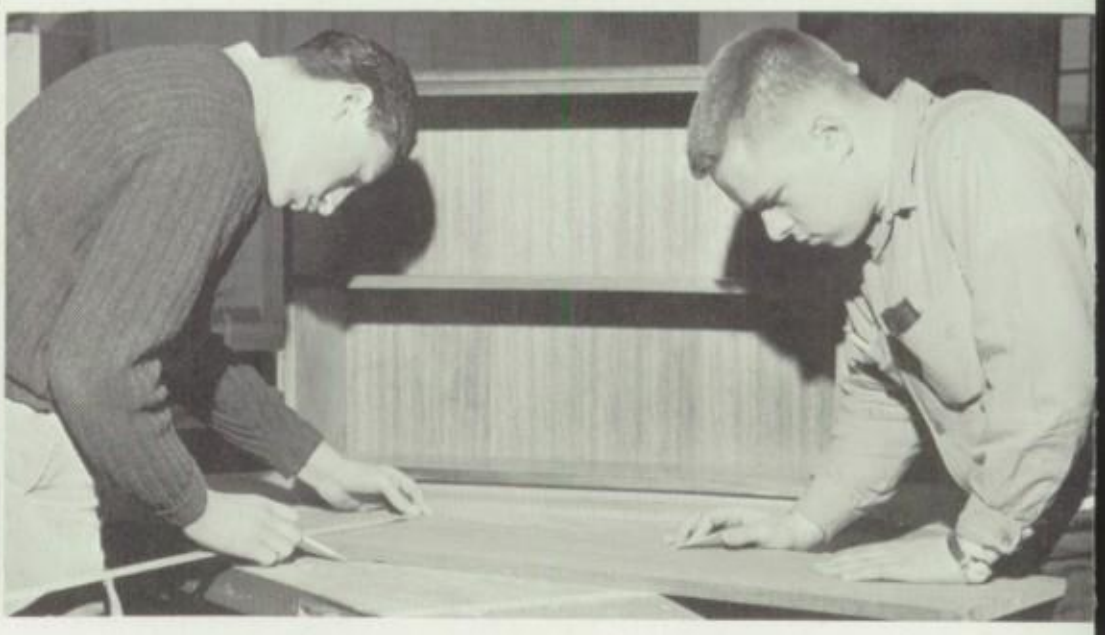
Our vocal groups wholly appreciated the help of our seven accompanists — N. Pugh, D. Leaf, K. Gunderson, C. Weddle, M. Powers. B. Baarstad, and (seated) L. Berilla.

Three talented seniors united to form this year's Senior Trio. They are: L. Moeller, A. Khvoroff, and K. Korte. SEATED, is C. Steiert, accompanist.

Members of the newly formed Boy's Glee Club were: ROW 1: J. Manowski, J. Broo, H. Hotton, L. Ollom, D. Meisner, J. Kellogg. ROW 2: B. McLaren, D. McDaniels, J. Duffney, C. Erickson, B. Ollom, V. Khvoroff, D. Manson. ROW 3: D. Sandness, C. Barnhart, R. Lennon, M. Sorensen, G. Johnson, P. Mlachnik, J. Farman. BACK ROW: J. LaBeau, H. Satterlund, F. VanHoof, J. Francis, D. LaBrash, R. Pederson, S. Jones, and F. Weston.



Miss Hayne's Typing I class is practicing for speed and accuracy. Bill Ritchie must find it kind of hard to type without any paper in his machine, but Gordy Pogorelc is all business.



John Crivello and Rick Johnson are hard at work in Shop III class making a shelf for the bookcase in the background. Up to four years of wood shop are offered to boys.

Mr. Sill's 8th grade science class looks over the rock collection that was on display. Pictured are Dave Todnem, Larry Williams, Bert Kranz, Bruce Olson, Robin Lee, Robert McLaren, Jack Spithill, and Russell Cadman.

Will the volcano blow up? Mr. Sill says it won't, and his 8th grade science students don't seem worried. Making the volcano are Carol Olsen, Linda Jones, Laurie Leinonen, and Patsy Davies.

Mr. Dacus is shown lecturing to his freshman geography class. Half of the year is spent on Washington history and the other half is spent on world geography.

Mr. Evans (center, back) is teaching 8th grade girls in her sewing class to make aprons to keep their sewing equipment in. Pictured are Anna Marie Moreno, Pam Richierd, Lois Erickson, Taffi Mariotti, and Doren Hall.

Student assistants learned by being part of the "teaching team" in the 100-student, experimental algebra class. Correcting algebra test papers are Mr. J. Thomas, B. Krueger, P. Porter, C. Brauner, and B. Scott.

Creative painting? Mrs. Dihel seems to be wondering, too. But whatever it is, it looks like fun! The creative artists are V. Osborn, A. Cunningham, S. Melburn, Mrs. Dihel and J. Pierce.

Opportunities for Learning Were Many

For a small school, Enumclaw Junior-Senior High has a wide range of subjects progressively taught. As these academic pages show, the opportunities for students to learn range from the basic subjects of English, science, and history in the eighth grade to creative painting, student teaching, and a special lecture course for seniors.

From grade 8 through grade 12 the subjects are many and varied. Physical education is required through grade 10, and English is a required subject through the senior year. Boys can take four years of shop or agriculture, and girls can become proficient in stenography and home economics. Ambitious students came to school this year at 7:30 for an advanced chemistry class, while students who failed in English were required to make up the course during a "seventh period" after school.

From an educational standpoint it was a good year in a good school, and students and teachers alike can look forward to even more progress in the new high school next year.

Mr. Poppleton's biology class listens intently as he tells them about sea life. Many interesting movies were also shown on this phase of biology.

Mr. Rex Waldron supervises the humanities class, which was held in the faculty lunch room. One of the purposes of this was class to prepare college bound students for lecture courses. Pictured are D. Kovacevich, B. Baarstad, C. Whitley, A. Khvoroff, Mr. Waldron, S. Oliver, J. Cutting, and P. Gunderson.

The intermediate home economics class is hard at work trying out one of many new recipes. Four years of home ec are offered to any girl wishing to take it. Shown are: G. Mallery, K. Gunderson, and V. Olsen.

Students Trained for Varied Futures

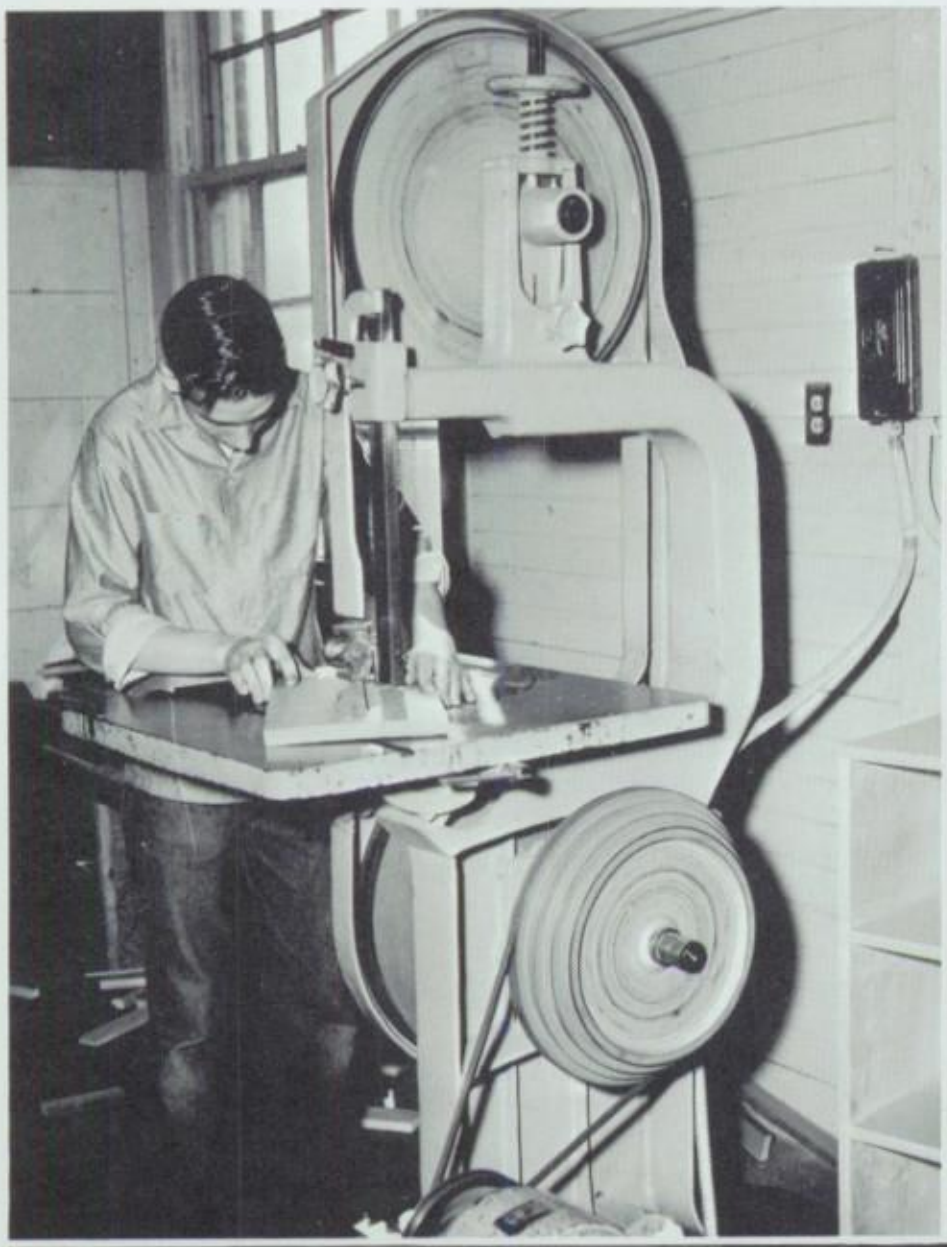
An investment in the future was made by the students on these two pages. By taking courses such as shorthand, home ec, printing, shop, and mechanical drawing they began preparing themselves for future occupations. These students seem to have realized the importance of high school. The fellow who drops out of high school can expect to earn $30,000 less in his lifetime.

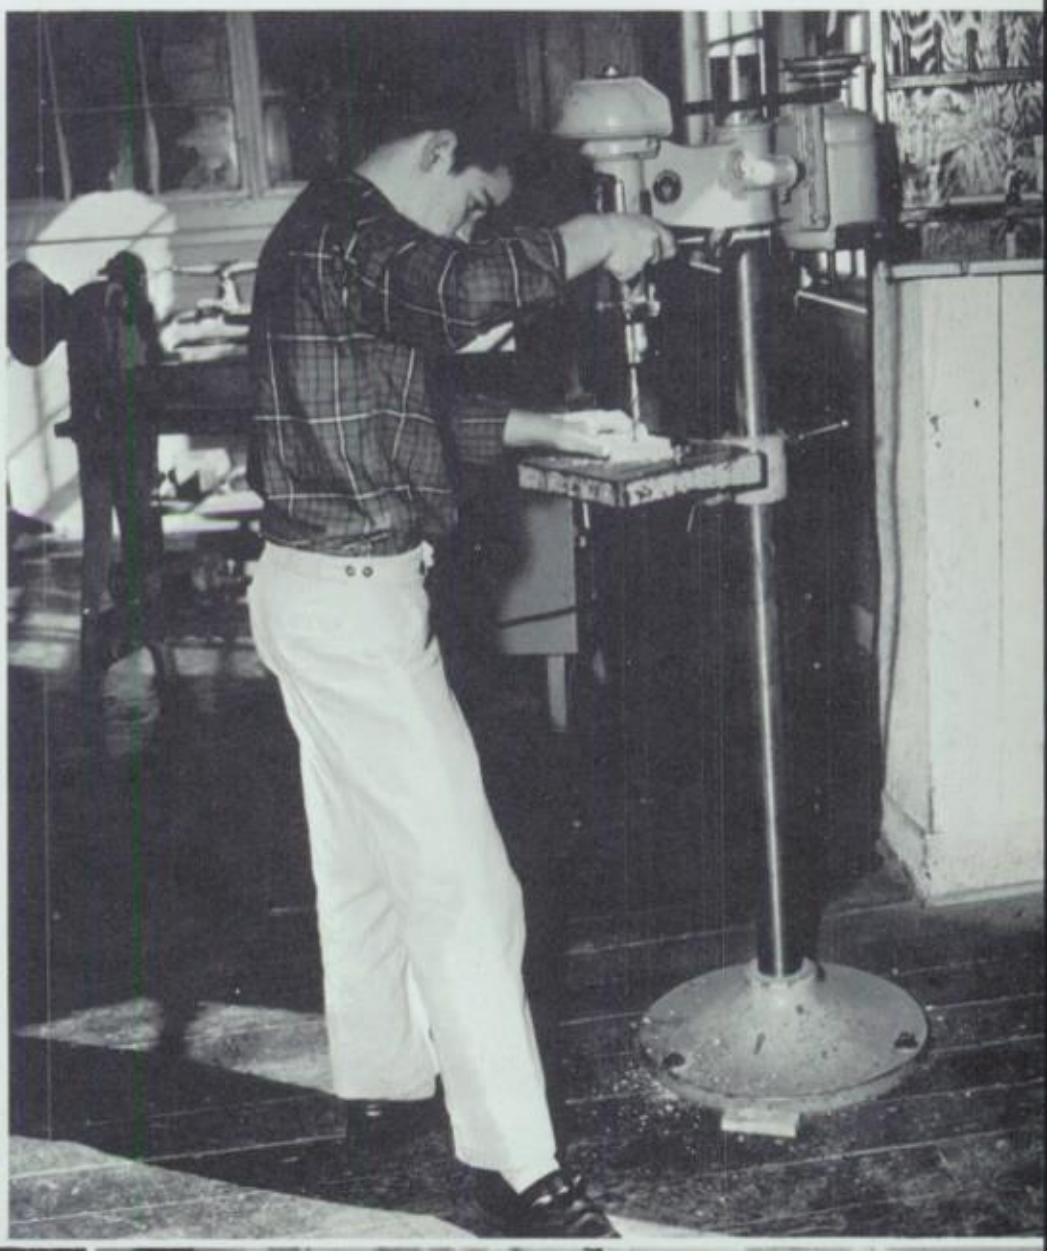
Many college-bound students also are featured here as can be seen by the snapshots of the French and humanities classes. It can be surmised that none of these students will be either a burden to themselves or society.

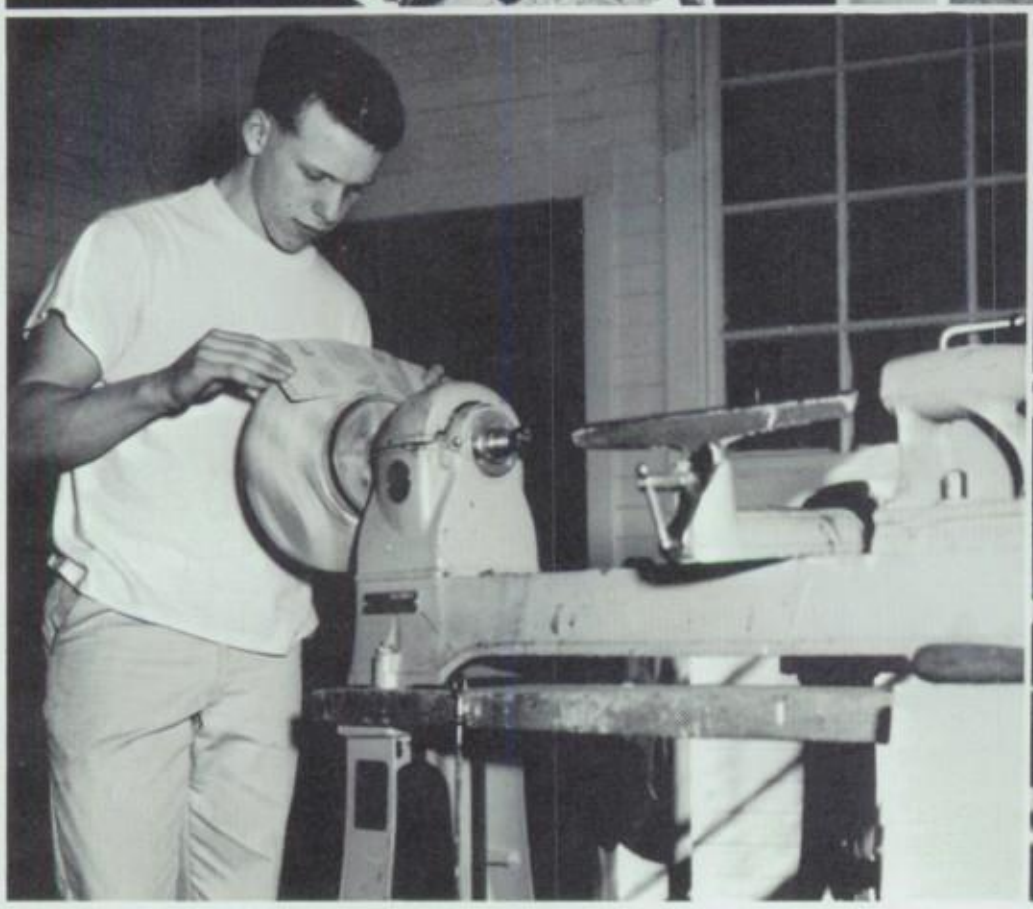
Miss Stead tells her French I class about "Le drapeau Tricolore do France." SEATED: ROW 1: J. Lucchesi, L. Collins, L. Johnson, C. Whitley, J. Dal Santo, and V. Mathews. ROW 2: J. Pierce, L. Sevilles, A. Limbo, R. Perin, V. Perin, and K. Gunderson. ROW 3: N. Williams, J. Cunningham, G. Parmenter, and J. Mitchell. ROW 4: J. Sherwood and R. Peterson. STANDING: G. Hinshaw, B. Sargent, J. Leinonen, S. Graham, B. Elsner, D. Leaf, C. Silvestri, C. Ogard, C. Weddle, and Miss Stead.

Examining one of the lunch tickets which they printed are Bud Moeller and Doug Newbold. The print shop not only printed lunch tickets but many other forms used daily in school.

They Train for Jobs and Homeowning







Four years of industrial arts are offered to those boys who wish to take it. Some learn skills which qualify them for good jobs; all develop abilities which well be of life-long value to them as homeowners. More shop machinery than that pictured above will be installed in the new school, and in addition a metal shop and ag shop will be added. ABOVE LEFT: Doug Newbold skillfully cuts a curve on the band saw. ABOVE RIGHT: The drill press is used expertly by Bob Mills. LOWER LEFT: Four years of shop will make Jim Champagne an expert in turning out intricate woodwork designs on the lathe. LOWER RIGHT: Most homeowners have a table saw and Russ Sorensen has learned to run one expertly and safely.

CASCADIAN, PART II: This year while seniors were completing a foundation of solid preparation for college or employment, bricklayers and concrete specialists were laying the foundation for the new Enumclaw High School in which underclassmen will continue school and from which most will graduate.

Through active participation in their class, an organization or a sport every student can develop responsibility, initiative, perseverance and leadership which will give him a solid foundation for life.

Class of '61 Seeks New Walk of Life

On this Commencement Day, June 6, we the Class of 1961 shall complete our memory book of twelve fun-filled years. Our memory book is filled with kindergarten and grade school memories. Then, in one year's time, we went from Top Class — "Mighty Sixth Graders" — to the "baby seventh graders" when on Class Day we were introduced to the mysterious high school to the tune of Rock-a-Bye-Baby.

The junior high years were filled with junior high games and dances. Then at last we were in senior high. Our Sophomore Hop, "Swanee River Rock," was a success.

As Juniors we won the traditional Pep Jug and the Girls' Club skit contest. To top off our year we presented the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet with the theme, "Apple Blossom Time."

Our Senior year is most remembered, being highlighted with the Senior Ball ("Colonial Christmas"), the Senior play ("The Thread that Runs so True"), pre-college exams, sports participation, cheering and our Alma Mater. Then came the final week — the All Night Party, Class Day, Baccalaureate and Commencement where each and every one of us closes his and her memory book and steps into a new "walk of life."

"The Thread That Runs So True"

"The Thread That Runs So True," was this year's Senior Play. The play concerns the true adventures of the young Jesse, a determined young man still in his late teens, suddenly put in charge of a Kentucky mountain school where most of his students are older, bigger and tougher than he is. Among them, Jesse finds the girl, Naomi.

The cast found themselves in hillbilly costumes. The girls arrived on stage barefooted and with braids and buck teeth. The production turned out to be a delightful, meaningful and often uproaring play.

The leading characters of the Senior play (Ken Sargent, Diane O'Donnell, Mike Bird and Dave Hunt) rehearse a stormy scene which was enthusiastically received by a large opening night audience.

Although the stage boys play an important part in the production of the Senior Play, they are sometimes forgotten. Here we would like to say "thanks" to Harry Cole and Russ Sorensen who were mainly responsible for having the stage ready for opening night.

Mr. Welch (Teacher Director), Marilyn Maras (Student Director) and Betty Baarstead (Assistant Student Director) spent many hours improvising and perfecting the Senior Play.

"Cinderellas" Relive Colonial Christmas

The weekend before Christmas, on Dec. 17, four E.H.S. "Cinderellas" hoped to be Queen of the annual Senior Ball held in the highly decorated girls' gym between the hours of 9 to 12.

Many hardworking committees made the Ball a success. Committee chairmen were: Diane Smith, general chairman; Sandy Vincent, decoration chairman; Paul Porter, clean up committee; Alice Cunningham, center piece; Lorilyn Greschok, entrance; Francie Romedo, invitations; Linda Mikus, programs; Dale LaBrash, bandstand; Linda Berilla, publicity; Mary Warner, gifts; Sharon Calvert, entertainment; and Monte Walker, tickets.

The candidates for queen were Karen Smith, Linda Berilla, Kathy Weston, and Alice Cunningham. Alice Cunningham was the lovely queen and Kathy Weston and Karen Smith were pleased to receive the title as princesses.

With Colonial Christmas as theme, colors of blue and white, and dancing to the music of Gene Atkins, Dec. 17 was an evening that will always be remembered.

The two lovely Senior Ball Princesses, Kathy Weston and Karen Smith, smile happily after receiving their titles and their tiaras.

On the "night of nights" these couples Kathy and Bill Boyle, Mary Warner and Eddie Erickson, and Linda Johnson and Dennis Williams were in a world of their own. They danced until the clock struck twelve, then reluctantly went their separate ways.

Pausing between dances Dave Grove and Francie Romedo, Jerry Engish and Lorilyn Greschok are caught smiling for a Cascadian photographer before they dance again to the strains of another waltz.

Juniors to Be First Grads in New School

Secretary Kathy Darby and President Marilyn Bush (SEATED) Treasurer Judy Jensen and Vice-President Gretchen Allen. (STANDING) plan a class meeting with the helpful guidance of Miss Haynes, class adviser.

On April 22, the Junior-Senior Banquet was held as the climax of a great year for the Junior class, "which will be the first class to graduate from the new high school." Following the banquet was the annual Junior Prom, "Orchid Mist," with the decorations carrying out the theme. Dancing was to the entrancing music of the "Bluenotes."

Earlier in the year the purchasing of class rings had put the Juniors a step closer to becoming the mighty seniors of Enumclaw. Other activities and events included a skit in Girls' Club competition, selling refreshments at the football and basketball games, decorating the gym for the Junior Prom, and planning the Junior-Senior Banquet. Also, the traditional Junior paper was produced under the editorship of Michelle Harp.

The skit put on by the Junior girls was entitled "The Original Professional Hour." Because of their fine acting ability, they placed first in the competition.

The class of 1962 could not have done so well without the expert guidance of its class advisers Miss Haynes, Mr. Garrison, and Mr. Lancaster. The class officers were: Marilyn Bush, president; Gretchen Allen, vice president; Kathy Darby, secretary; and Judy Jensen, treasurer.

The skit the junior girls put on in Girls' Club competition was "The Original Professional Hour." Kathy Dobson and Arleen Rogers, two "hicks from the sticks," are better known as "The Humming Birds." This is only one of the many acts put on at the skit.

Jim Dibley (on ladder), Barb Walters, John Crivello, and Sally Zaputil are just four of the many juniors who turned out to decorate for the Junior Prom.

Spirited Sophomores Exhibit Energy

Busy planning a Sophomore Class Meeting are FRONT: President Connie Weddle, and Secretary Dixie Sroufe BACK: Vice president Janie Dal Santo and Treasurer Mervin Such.

The Class of 1963 began their first year in senior high with a bang. The mighty sophomores plowed through the basketball season with an enthusiasm hard to match. They showed a lot of both school and class spirit.

The football and basketball games were an opportune time to have many of their class projects. They sold concessions at the games and sponsored dances in the gym.

The highlight of the year was the Sophomore Hop, which was held on February 4. The dance was entitled "The Roaring 20's" and the theme was carried out in the decorations. Cheryl Bitney was the general chairman of the gala affair and her chairmen were: Janet Lawrence, refreshments; Bryan Elsner, tickets; Paul Erickson, clean-up; and Melissa Knight, decorations. The climax of the dance was a Charleston contest and marathon. Under the helpful guidance of Mr. Poppleton and Mr. J. Thomas, sophomore class advisers, the dance was a complete success.

During the spring the sophomores were busy with a car wash and a Chinese auction, which were both extremely successful.

The class of 1963 successfully completed their sophomore year under the leadership of President Connie Weddle, Vice-President, Janie Dal Santo, Secretary, Dixie Sroufe, and Treasurer Mervin Such. The sophomores laid a good foundation for their remaining years at E.H.S.

This year's sophomores had many accomplishments in scholarships, athletics, and activities, but their most noticeable and lasting achievement was the cleaning up and paving by the advanced F.F.A. of an unsightly and muddy area between the shop and the main building. Juniors also did a little of the work. Working on the project are FRONT: Bob Kjeroff, Dennis Peltola, Don Biarum, Grant Rogers, CENTER: Roy Raymer, Wayne Forler, Lee Jamieson, Bill Bevaart, Richard Alcorn. BACK: Richard Box, John Kloss, Read Anderson, Dennis Nielson, and Don Chausee.

Studies, Sports, Fun on Freshmen Agenda

The class of '64 was led by these four dynamic and good looking officers. FRONT TO BACK: President Bill Jensen, Vice President Marilyn Rossman, Secretary Rick Darby, and Treasurer Judy Wilson.

With excitement and some perplexity stamped upon their countenances, members of the Freshmen Class began their second year in junior-senior high and flocked into new activities with high enthusiasm.

This year's class officers were President Bill Jensen, Vice President Marilyn Rossman, Secretary Rick Darby, and Treasurer Judy Wilson. The class advisers were Mrs. North, Mr. Ronhaar, and Mr. Delles.

Miss Gall and Mr. B. Campbell, Junior High Girls' and Boys' Clubs advisers, held various recreation nights throughout the year for the freshmen class and many mixers were conducted between the girls and boys P.E. classes at which they polished dance steps learned during 8th grade P.E. last year.

A dance in the spring, a car wash, and concessions at football and basketball games were money making projects which helped make a '60-61 prosperous year for the freshmen.

Class Day found the class of 1964 occupying the sophomore section. Behind them now lie their memorable Freshmen days, and ahead lie three years of fun filled senior high activities.

Eighth Graders Will Step into Freshman Shoes

Money making was an objective and a talent of this year's Eighth Grade class and here we see the class officers discussing one of their many lucrative projects. SEATED: President Ron Miller and Vice President Laurie Leinonen; STANDING: Secretary Peggy Campbell and Treasurer Jim Grafton.

Having survived a bewildering introductory stage, 196 eighth graders (90 girls and 106 boys) found their bearings for junior-senior high and were determined to make their class an outstanding one in the coming years. The class already is a special one indeed, for they will be the last eighth grade class to mingle with the Mighty Seniors, and the first eighth grade class to be the top dogs of junior high.

Autumn Fantasy, a dance which was held November 12, was very successful under the direction of Linda Ingram and her various committees. During the year the eighth graders also had three mixers.

Concessions at basketball and football games boosted the class treasury tremendously. More money came from being the leading class in the magazine sales, with the 8 E's who won an autograph football. The football was raffled off and the profit, $14.30, was added to the class treasury. Wilfred Gabrio won the football. Larry Frazer was leading magazine salesman of the school and of the 8 E's.

A traditional project well done by this year's eighth graders was the once a week job of cleaning up the school grounds.

Under the guidance and counselling of their advisers, Miss Keir, Mr. Sill, and Mr. Thompson, along with their hard working officers, the eighth grade class had a very successful year.

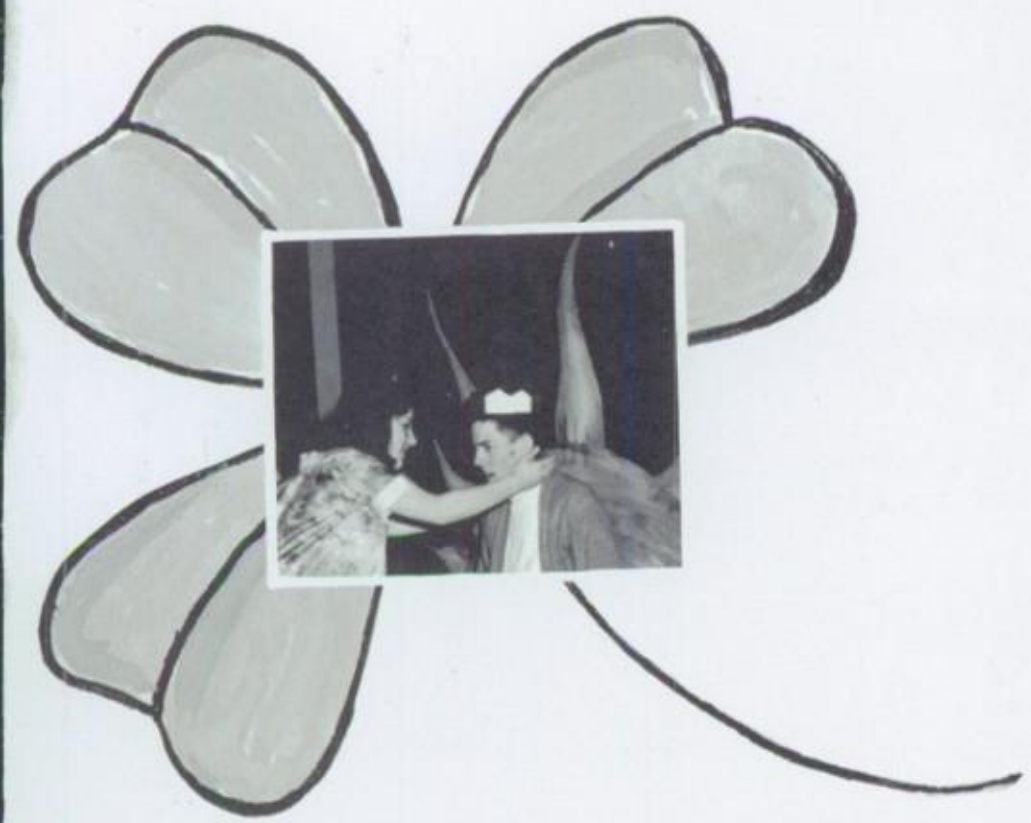
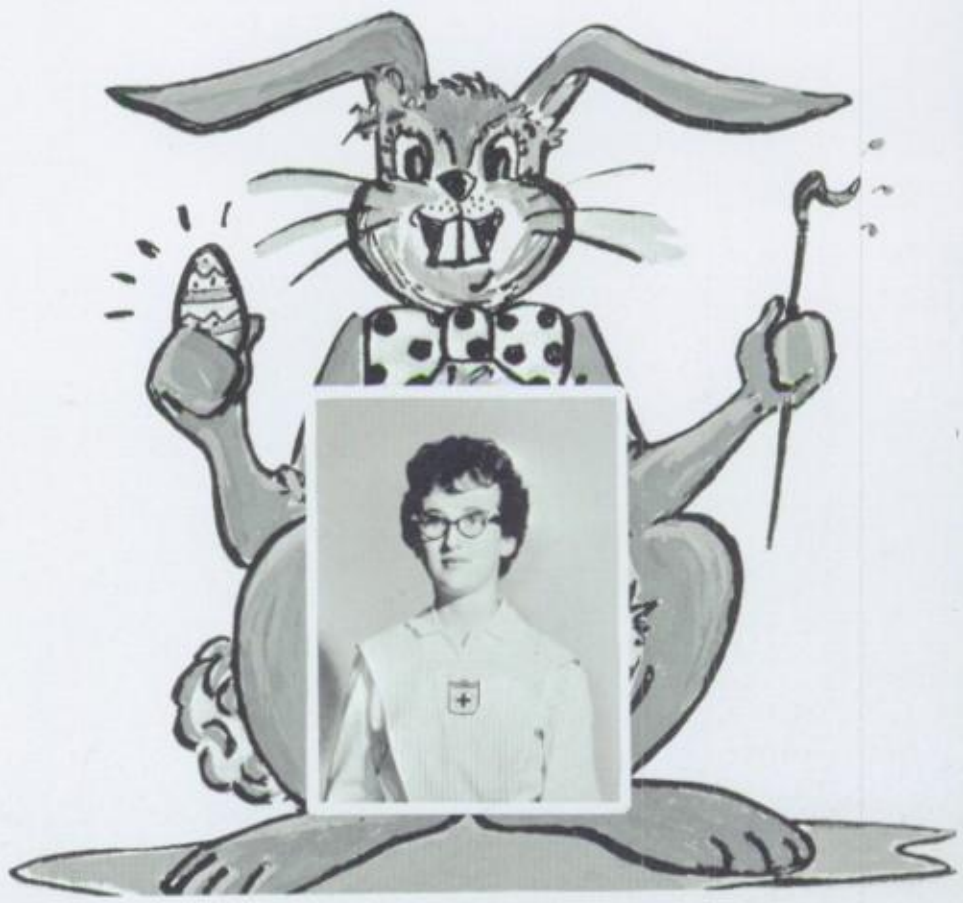
GOES BY"

The E.H.S. Student Life calendar was crowded with special events and extra-curricular programs every month from the start of school in September until graduation in June. Football games and the Puyallup Fair in September opened the activity year and from then on special assemblies, dances, winter sports, G.L.C. playdays, a Career Day, the Scholarship Dinner and countless other events kept the calendar full until the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, Class Day and GRADUATION brought the year to a close.

FEBRUARY: "Be My Valentine!" think these boys as they and their dates attend the Sophomore Hop, "The Roaring 20's." In costume are Denise Smith, Bill Wilson, Vicki Dyer, and Ed Pettersen.



MARCH: An exciting moment indeed for Tim Strecker was being crowned King of the Girls' Club Tolo by Alice Cunningham.



APRIL: Rose Stout and 70 other members of the J.R.C. helped to make Easter a happier time for all the children at Rainier State School.

MAY: J. D. Korte with his sousaphone and more than 150 other musicians participated in the Spring Concert.

JUNE: Karen Smith and Butch Zumek are typical of 126 seniors who will be taking their last steps across the E.H.S. stage June 6.

"Where is your car parked?" might describe the expressions of Tim Strecker, Doug Morris, Bruce Kalin and Fred Weston who spent their after school and week-end hours boxing groceries at the Enumclaw Food Center.

Trying to get all the figures to come out straight at Loftus Confectionery, was the job tackled by Kathy Weston during her weekend employment there.

Never a Dull Moment in the Lives

Many E.H.S. students earned all of their spending money or supplemented their allowances by holding down part time jobs. Our teenage toilers were employed by a variety of business firms — supermarkets, grocery stores, garages, service stations, clothing stores, offices and various eating places. Many high school girls earned extra money by baby-sitting.

Upon interviewing some of our working students, we found that they used their part-time earnings for various purposes. Some of them spent their money for school clothing, while others saved for their future education.

The boys invariably spent all or part of their earnings on the maintenance and operation of their cars — and on the resulting dates. They paid

"One coke coming up," is a familiar saying of Carole Ross, who is waiting on Sharon Edwardson at the Blue Bird.

Two Cascadian staff members were waited on at Duke's by Diane O'Donnell and Helen Agefonow. In the kitchen, left, are Hank Johnson and Bud Krueger who are making extra orders of french fries.

One of the hangouts this year for many students was Mel's, where Darlene Hegle worked after school.

Marian Link, dental assistant, tells Nancy Paushek, freshman, there's nothing to worry about as they both await Dr. Ulman.

"Candy, coke or a bag of popcorn?" This is the question Karen Korte asked dozens of fellow students each weekend as she served them at the refreshment counter in the Roxy.

for such customizing work as lowering, chopping, for spinners and pipes to make their own car stand out in the school parking lot. And, of course, let us not forget about the high costs of actual car operation! The student driving his own car to and from school, and on dates, found that it took a little scraping to keep the old buggy going!

Some of the students we asked said they couldn't imagine where all their money had gone, and they hadn't saved a penny. (Of course, there were others with this story).

The experience of holding down a part-time job will be invaluable to our students when they complete their education and make their way into the workaday world.

Cutting meat and cleaning up is a job well done by Butch Zumek who worked frequently at his dad's meat market.

A diligent employee at J. C. Penney's is Fred Van Hoof, a senior who works to support a blue Chevy.

Summer Is Gone but

Swimming, dancing, parties, and just plain loafing proved to be the most popular pastimes around Enumclaw last summer for hundreds of E.H.S. students. Other students worked, took trips, and went to summer school.

One of the favorite swimming holes last summer was famous Pete's Pool, the largest all-cement outdoor pool west of the Mississippi, which is located one mile east of Enumclaw. Green River Gorge attracted picnickers and fishermen, while sportsminded E.H.S. boys (and even a few girls) enjoyed the many lakes and streams in Mt. Rainier's wilderness.

Many summer dances were held at Odd Fellow's Hall where the Adventurers, featuring John Stone, and The Casuals, an Auburn

Driven to boredom during the summer Vicki Perin took up teeter-tottering as a new hobby. She said, "It didn't last long because it just wasn't any fun without a partner."

At a party for Nida Emerson given at the home of Karen Gunderson's we find: FIRST ROW: Sandi Stulken, Nida Emerson, Gerry Kay Mallery, Adelia Hartill, and Cheryl Bitney. SECOND ROW: Ginny Olsen and Susan Whitley. Games were played.

Stories that were going around about the "monster" down at Green River didn't bother Louis Draghi at all. Whenever he wanted to cool off during vacation you found him wading in Green River.

This is what eighth graders Ron Brevik, John Ashley, John Hall, and Tom Damerson, with their victim Paul Sherwood, think of as being fun. Of course, Senior High students would never think of doing such a silly thing.

Memories Linger on

Band, entertained us to the crazy dance music of the "stomp." Other dances were held at Pete's Pool Recreation Hall and out at the airport.

Slumber parties and kidnap breakfasts were popular in the summer of 1960. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by all. One of the newest games was introduced at Alice Cunningham's slumber party; it was called, "Place the Kiss on the Lips of the Picture on the Wall."

Climaxing a fun-filled summer was the Labor Day Festival held at Black Diamond at which Audrey Petchnick was Queen and the Princesses were Diane Erickson and Kathy Carr.

Like many E.H.S. Boys, Jim Mitchell and Jim Cunningham spent much of their summer hunting and fishing in the sportsman's paradise east of Enumclaw.

Paul Gunderson displays hidden talents at the Seabeck Leadership Conference on "stunt night." Paul and Dee Campbell represented E.H.S. at the conference held on the Seabeck Conference Grounds at Hoods Canal last August 21—26.

Typical of most students were Penny Ross and Kandy Reeves who claimed they didn't do a thing all summer but loaf. Sometimes for excitement, they even tried crowding into the same chair.

Audrey Petchnick had the most thrilling moment of her life last summer when she was crowned the Labor Day Queen in the Black Diamond celebrations.

Kathy Carlson, Sharee Knock, Joyce Mosier, and Julia Silvestri seemed to think one bed wasn't big enough for all of them. Who ended up sleeping on the floor, Kathy?

"Ride 'em cowboy!" (Mike Bird)

Last fall a chance remark at a Cascadian sales assembly started a baby picture fad at E.H.S. and for a few weeks student life of "long ago" became student life of "60-61." To preserve these weeks of baby picture fun the annual staff decided to devote a two page spread of pictures to "remember when." As you glance over these pages you will note we have pictures from six month old tikes to pre-school age children. These pictures will bring back fond memories to some of our students and may even tend to prove a little embarrassing to some. Could this be you? In droopy diapers? or taking a bath at the age of 2? In any case, I think all of you will agree with this last conclusion; "My, how we've grown!"

"How I've changed"

"Enough is enough" (Linda Berilla, Carol Sorenson)

One of the more popular cars around school was a green and white '53 Chev. convertible. It was named "TROU-BLE" and was owned by Tim Strecker.

An example of what not to wear on exchange day during Tolo week was emphasized in a skit in which Francie Romedo and Dave Grove participated.

Keeping our students supplied with milk shakes and sundaes were Karen Smith, Ellen Child, Kathy Carr, Jerry Ann Davis, and Carol Brauner.

"Yum! Yum!" A dime a piece bought a share in one of the cakes made by the advanced Home Ec. class to raise money for a trip to Casa Villa in Seattle. These cake eaters are S. Anderson, L. Collins, P. Clem, K. Riverside and G. Potocnik.

Shown here is brotherly-sisterly love as Mason Sorenson helps his sister Jean up after she has a spill at Ski Acres.

Student Life 1960-61

Our odds and ends pages feature a strange assortment of scenes as our glance wanders from school cafeteria to snow laden slopes. Not only does the setting vary, but we travel from the "Roaring Twenties" to the corduroy tennis shoes, and squash heels of 1961. Transportation varies from slowly trodding the stairways of E.H.S. to rolling along in a "neat" Chev. convertible.

This was student life at E.H.S. in 1960-61.

It may look like Kathy Weston and Pam Coby, are going "North to Alaska" with their furry head gear, but they are merely wearing one of this year's fads, that was a great hit for most girls.

Among the many popular hair styles this year were the long wavy hair-do worn by Sharon Melburn and Judy Tice's pixie cut.

The "Baby High Heel" or better known as the squash heel and the pointed toe corduroy tennis shoe with the knee length skirt shown above was an all time popular for the year 1960-61.

In the line of fashions for boys were the corduroy walking coat worn by Lafe Garnier, the bulky knit sweater modeled by Gordy Pogorelc, and the trench coat displayed by Monty Mitchell.

Stylish on the night of the Sophomore Hop were these "Roaring 20's" gowns. Cassanova Louie Draghi is pictured with Barb Spangler, Judy Dille, and Kathy Darby.

LOOK DOWN at the popular shoes of '60-'61. L to R: Corduroy tennies; black flats with matching bows; buckled suedes; black cross-patch shoes accented by white laces; pointed-toed, black leather flats for the casual look; and college saddles for those wet and muddy days.

Student Achievements Were Many and Varied

In Enumclaw High School are many outstanding students whose achievements receive only fleeting recognition through a short newspaper story. Their achievements range from athletic honors to pie baking, and from magazine selling to the heights of scholarship. To give permanent recognition to a few of these students, the Cascadian presents this page featuring a cross-section of student achievements.

Queen Dee King Dick

"Sea Mist" Theme and Victory Over Mt. Rainier Makes Homecoming Enjoyable for All

Introducing the Royalty candidates at the Homecoming assembly were Mistress and Master of Ceremonies Judy Cutting and Ken Sargent.

All the students of E.H.S. and hundreds of people of the community gathered together in the high school auditorium on October 17 for the 13th Annual Homecoming assembly.

The crowning of the King and Queen and the choosing of the Royal Court was the main feature of the day. Last year's queen, Roberta Darby, crowned Queen Dee Ann Campbell and congratulated King Dick Kovacevich.

Later that evening Enumclaw won their game with Mt. Rainier 40—19 with touchdowns being scored by Dale Ehler, Bud Kirk (2), Dick Kovacevich, Dan Johnson, and Bill Johnson.

Highlighting the evening was the annual Homecoming dance with the theme "Sea Mist," which was carried out in the colors of blue, green and coral. Music was supplied by the Burke Garrett orchestra.

The dance chairmen were: Kathy Nichols, general chairman; Donaray Gregerson and Carolyn Fant, ceiling; Gail Bostwick, bandstand; Kathy Nichols, refreshments; Karyn Johnson, centerpiece; Carol Steiert and Lorilyn Greschok, entertainment; Linda Berilla, entrance; Judy Lucchesi and Kathy Dobson, sidescenes; and Georgene Potochnik and Donna West, programs.

Alumni, faculty, and students all equally enjoyed taking part in the "Sea Mist" festivities at the dance which followed Enumclaw's spectacular 40—19 victory over Mr. Rainier in the Homecoming game.

Sleet, hail, or snow could not have kept these two lovely princesses, Linda Mikus, and Judy Tice, from bearing the weather with a smile — and rain didn't as they rode around the football field on the stormy Homecoming night.

Kathy Nichols, General Chairman of Homecoming, takes time out from the fun to pour a glass of punch during the dance.

Two more princesses whose enthusiasm was not dampened by the rain are Sandy Vincent and Diane Smith.

L to R: Diane Erickson, Jane Grafton, Michelle Harp, and Geri Ann Davis are four of the girls who helped serve a huge crowd at the B.O.C. sponsored Enumclaw-Evergreen chili feed.

B. O. C. — New Student Court Function Well

At a joint B.O.C. and faculty meeting we found these student leaders and faculty members discussing club limitations.

The Board of Control, capably led by President Dick Kovacevich, had one of its most successful and active years. Assisting officers were: Gary Strom, vice president; Diane Smith, secretary; and Bud Kirk, treasurer.

Including Student Body officers and English room representatives, there were twenty-one students in this governing body.

Their untiring efforts resulted in a year of useful accomplishments, including the formation of the Student Court, the revision of the S.B.A. Constitution, the limiting of the number of clubs in which a student may participate, and better student-faculty relations.

Vice-President Gary Strom undertook the job of heading the Student Court, a new group this year. The Court was composed of class and club presidents and tried student traffic violations and litter-bug offenses. Mr. Salsgiver advised this newly-formed organization.

All these achievements verified the act that the B.O.C. was represented by many hard-working and capable students.

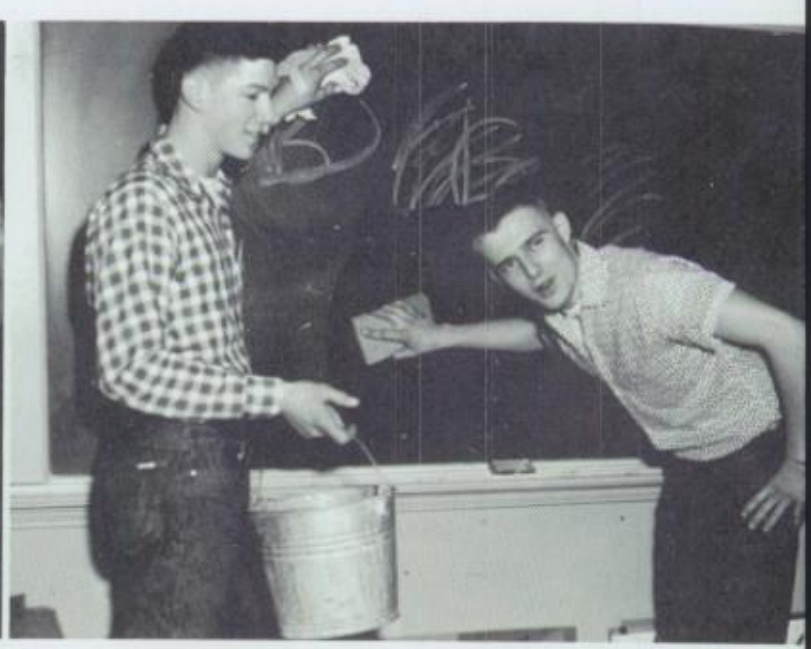
Members of Student Court, a new division of the B.O.C., are: ROW 1: Alice Cunningham, Carol Brauner, Linda Mikus, Lorilyn Greschok, Kathy Darby, Marian Link, Jane Grafton, Barbara Henrichs. ROW 2: Mr. Salsgiver, adviser, Marilyn Maras, Sharon Melburn, Sharee Knock, Joyce Mosier, Dee Ann Campbell, Francie Romedo, Pam Coby. ROW 3: Archie Peterson, Gary Strom, Rick Erickson, Terry Brown, Doug Morris, Bob Corlett.

"Innocent!" was the just decision by Judge Gary Strom that cleared Bart Jensen of the charge of having defective equipment (loud pipes). Members of the jury are: l to r: Doug Morris, Kathy Darby, Joyce Mosier, Judge Gary Strom, Sharee Knock, and Terry Brown.



"Guilty as charged!" was the Student Court's verdict, and Dave Annas and Lonnie Carlson worked out their punishment for a traffic violation by washing all the chalk boards on the entire second floor.

Jr. High Faces Challenging Future

Because of next year's separation from the senior high, the junior high governing body will be faced with the challenging problem of setting up a completely new government. The old constitution must be gone over and revised, and junior high students will be given the opportunity of forming a self-government and an activity program that will no longer be dominated and overshadowed by the senior high. PICTURED at left is this year's junior high Board of Control in conference with Mr. Warren, who will be the principal of the junior high. The students are, l to r: Ron Miller, John Rogers, Warren Lokovsek (secretary-treasurer), Bill Jensen, Orland Eskola (vice-president), Virginia Porter. Jack Kirk, president, is not pictured.

Girls' Club Projects Show Planning

At one of the Girls' Club programs, representatives from the Peterson Business College spoke on opportunities in the business field. Seated: Mrs. Metter, Mrs. Caviezel (Girls' Club adviser), and Mrs. Buchanan. STANDING: Mr. Buchanan and Kathy Weston (Girls' Club hostess).

This school year started with the Girls' Club "Orientation Day," a project which was symbolic of all the qualities which Girls' Club members strive to represent — a democratic spirit, an attitude of helpfulness in the community, and the promotion of loyalty to school. New students are introduced to their new school and future classmates through this program, which takes place before school opens.

Last fall our school was represented by the Girls' Club officers and Cabinet at the Girls' Club Conference, which took place at Highline High School in November. Another successful project was the reorganization of the Girl of the Month system.

During the year, Girls' Club also promoted a bake sale, a style show, and a sock dance which were not only fun gatherings, but also money-making projects. The Tolo and Senior Tea were the social events which fittingly ended a highly successful year.

Jr. High Boys' — Girls' Clubs Set High Aims

Both separately and jointly the Junior High Boys' and Girls' Clubs carried on active programs which made the school year more enjoyable and educational for all junior high students.

The Girls' Club had as its aim that each junior high girl could enjoy a happier, fuller, and more useful school life by participation in a democratic organization, thereby developing leadership, good citizenship, and fine womanhood. During the year the Girls' Club carried on a vocational program and presented a style show, and a travelogue. Miss Jean Gall was adviser of the organization.

The Junior High Boys' Club was very active under the leadership of its officers and its adviser, Mr. B. Campbell. Vocational and health instruction, as well as recreation, was promoted by the Boys' Club.

The two organizations jointly sponsored a Christmas dance, a Valentine dance, and Spring Vacation dance and several junior high parties. On each occasion dancing was only part of the program, with games and sports and other fun being enjoyed by the non-dancers.

Cheerfulness and cooperation prevailed throughout all meetings of the Junior High Girls' Club cabinet. Pictured are: SEATED: N. Pugh, E. Holm, J. Jameyson, J. Christiansen, L. Ingram, K. Okeson, M. Rossman. STANDING: J. LaBree, V. Dyer, and C. Nickels.

Junior high boys are taught to settle differences man to man, then shake hands and forget their argument. These two boys worked out their problems under supervision in the gymnasium during the noon hour.

Members of PAPS, the Audio-visual service club, were: ROW 1: Mr. G. Campbell, (advisor), B. Dorn, D. Meisner, J. Myhre, R. Darby, and N. Polston. ROW 2: R. Erickson, B. Corlett, A. Petersen, T. Morgan, J. Allen, R. Sorenson, and L. Garnier.

Down Went the Hammer

"Turn it up! These are the complaints sometimes heard by Mr. Osborne's stage crew, which had charge of the "mike" and the stage equipment at all assemblies and meetings. The stage crew also had to have some knowledge of the delicate workings of microphones and amplifiers and had to be masters of carpenter tools, for building and changing scenery was another of their many jobs. When someone was needed for running spotlights or pulling the curtains, there was always one of the stage crew on the job.

Round Went the Reels

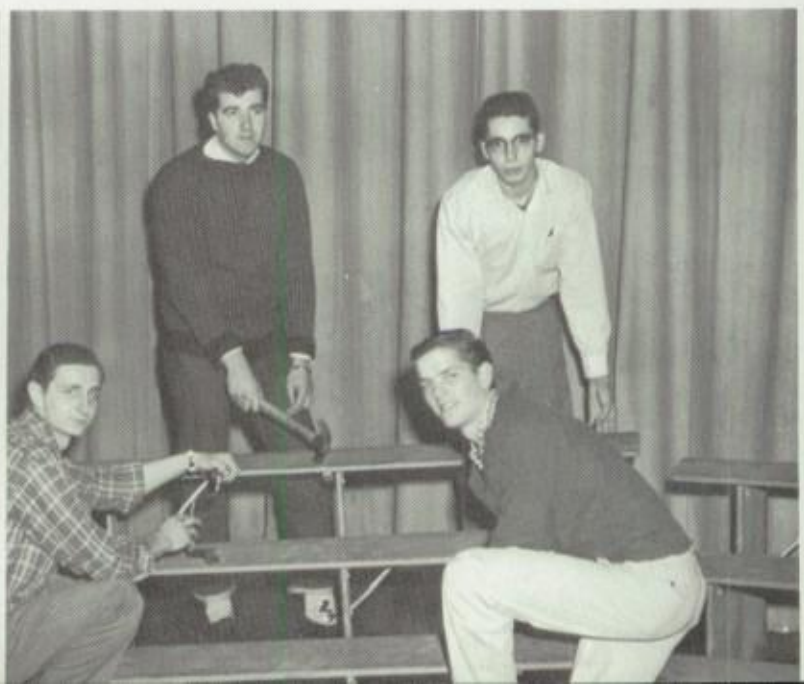
Operating the school's five projectors to show films that added to the enrichment of classroom instruction was the major duty of the members of PAPS crew. Many other jobs performed by these service-minded students were setting public address systems at sports events and dances, running movies for outside organizations and operating tape recorders, record players, filmstrip projectors and opaque projectors.

To be a member of PAPS a boy must be a sophomore, have and maintain a "C" average, and must be dependable and willing to work. Mr. G. Campbell was adviser of the group.

In preparation for the division of junior and senior high school next year, eighth graders and freshmen were trained to operate movie projectors. Junior high students trained were: ROW 1: B. Kalin, D. Hagan, S. Scott, D. Smith, C. Basteyns, and J. Mitchell. ROW 2: M. Wik, B. Mills, R. Lippincott, D. Zgonc, J. Campbell, and L. Gregerson.

Members of the stage crew obligingly stopped to pose for the Cascadian photographer while setting up band risers under the direction of Adviser Mr. Osborne.

Seen taking down the chorus risers after the Spring Concert were: L. to R: Stan Poleski, Ed. Erickson, Noel Polston, and Carl Erickson.



Members of Lettermen's Club during '60-'61 were: ROW 1: J. Howells, L. Garnier, C. Richardson, D. Ehler, M. McNeely, L. Draghi, B. Kirk, D. Morris, D. Grove, and T. Strecker. ROW 2: B. Selland, A. Petersen, G. Pogorelc, D. McDaniels, L. Pete, G. Houghton, G. Strom, F. Carlson, and J. Myhre. ROW 3: K. Sargent, D. Ruppert, R. Chase, R. Erickson, H. Satterland, C. Erickson, D. Johnson, A. Thorsett, S. Johnson, P. Gunderson, and D. Kovacevich.

Student Safety and Service Is Motto

To promote school spirit, co-operation, and the building of a useful and strong organization was the purpose of this year's Lettermen's Club. Concessions at basketball games, a car wash, and a picnic in the spring, were some of their activities. A swimming party at C.P.S. brought the year to a close.

Lettermen's Club officers this year were: FRONT ROW: Vice President Bill Johnson, Secretary-treasurer Mike McNeely, and President Doug Morris. BACK ROW: Mr. Borreson and Mr. Osborne the faculty advisers.

"We must empty all the class rooms as fast as possible," says Mr. W. Thomas, adviser of Firemen's Club. To accomplish this, fire drills were held once a month to acquaint students with quick exits and proper conduct in emergencies.

The main duties of Enumclaw's 40 student firemen were to check that all windows were closed, all lights turned out, that everyone was out of all classrooms, and that all doors were closed during fire drills. Making sure that fire extinguishers, hoses, and other equipment was in working order was another important responsibility of the boys.

With the help of Mr. Thompson, their adviser, these Junior Red Cross officers, carried out a project through which more than 70 junior-senior high students served as volunteer aides at Rainier State School. The officers are: Sandi Vincent, vice president; LaGreta Nielson, secretary; Bob Corlett, president.

Commendations were many for the Junior Red Cross and the Nurses' Club which joined this year to promote a project of daily student assistance in providing extra recreation and care for patients at the Rainier State School in Buckley.

The Junior Red Cross, with a membership of nearly 70 students, carried most of the load, sending from one to twenty student volunteers daily to the Rainier School. No rewards besides the satisfaction of helping were received by the volunteers, and none was expected. Mr. John Thompson, the groups adviser, conceived and promoted the project.

The Nurses' Club, under the supervision of Mrs. Eva MacDonald, has ended its second successful year. The purpose of the club is to give girls who are interested in a nursing career an opportunity to learn about the many fields offered to nurses. During the year, members made field trips to a hospital, saw movies on the nursing career, and assisted at the Rainier State School. To raise money, the club sponsored a candy sale and a sock hop.

One of the most commended organizations in E.H.S. this year was the Junior Red Cross. Members pictured are: ROW 1: L. Williams, C. Nickels, D. Kovacevich, K. Klinkhammer, M. Weston, M. Moyer, D. Aim of Debate Club Was Fluent Speaking

To develop the student's forensic ability and critical thought processes through active participation in competitive speaking was the avowed purpose of the Enumclaw High School Debate Club. This year the team undertook to master the question: "Resolved: that the United Nations should be significantly strengthened." Mr. Welch, the adviser, helped the team to gather the material it needed to prepare for the four meets it participated in. Toward the end of the season the team participated in the Round Robin Tournament held at the Kent-Meridian High School and a tournament at the College of Puget Sound.

These Enumclaw debaters broke even in four scheduled debates. SEATED: J. Silvestri, J. Myhre, C. Brauner, L. Collins. STANDING: D. Campbell, K. Sargent, P. Gunderson, F. Romedo.

Experiments and Study Science-Math Club Aim

Three advisers, one officer and twelve science-minded students got a new organization — the Science-Math Club — off to a good start in 1960-61.

The three advisers were Mr. Leuthy, Mr. Garrison, and Mr. Poppleton — all new to E.H.S. this year. The one officer was Paul Gunderson, who was named organizing secretary. Under this leadership a small but select membership kept up-to-date on current scientific developments and had the opportunity to conduct experiments not normally covered in their science courses.

Future Farmers of America is an organization which provides an opportunity for farm boys to gain in leadership and community responsibility. Planned recreation is another objective of the organizations.

One of the organization's main activities is preparing a display, exhibiting, and judging at the Puyallup Fair. While the other clubs are busy giving Tolo's and marching in parades, the F.F.A. Chapter is busy with such activities as the parent-son banquet November 18, Auburn Fat Stock Show April 13 to 15, Enumclaw Junior Dairy Show May 20, and King County Fair August 24 to 26. The organization also promotes and enters parliamentary procedure and public speaking contests.

F. H. A. Develops Better Homemakers

The main purpose of the future Homemakers of America is to further interest in home economics and homemaking. To achieve its purpose the F.H.A. Chapter planned many educational and helpful activities this year. Not one of these achievements could have been so well accomplished if the F.H.A. adviser, Mrs. Caviezel, hadn't devoted so much time to improving the Chapter and making better homemakers.

Activities which helped achieve the F.H.A. purpose were invitation luncheons with neighboring F.H.A. Chapters, a faculty banquet, a parent and daughter banquet, and the John Brown Dinner. The F.H.A. also sponsored a Christmas basket for a needy family and had charge of the Homecoming Dance. Operation of the student store in the cafeteria and conducting several faculty bake sales gave the girls experience and helped finance the organization.

Mrs. Caviezel, F.H.A. adviser, has taught here for 5 years. In this time she has given time and effort far beyond her obligations to better the F.H.A. Chapter.

Notice the funny clothes and smiling faces of these future F.H.A. members who were initiated last fall. These and many more will be trained to become better homemakers. FRONT TO BACK: (l to r) J. Service with a Smile

One of the projects of the Library Club this year was the Christmas Tea held in honor of the faculty. The girls turned from their books to become expert cooks, decorators, and hostesses.

Another highlight of the year was a trip to the University of Washington library where the Club members were conducted around the immense building by Mr. Sliekers, adviser of the group. Other projects this year were a candy sale, a car wash, and a work shop.

This year the club members were given a "Look into the future" by attending many conferences at which teaching was discussed and by visiting the University of Washington. Members of the group also serve as assistant teachers at grade school.

An objective of F.T.A. is to further interest in the field of education, and this year the Enumclaw F.T.A did much to achieve its goal.

Beauty Was Their Goal

The Art Club objectives were to further interest in Art and to create beauty in our community, our school, and our homes. Under the leadership of Mrs. Dihel, adviser, and the club officers the Art Club carried on many projects to attain these objectives. The members of Art Club worked hard at making posters and silk screening for the Leadership Conference, Homecoming, concerts, sports events, the senior play, and many other school activities.

Highlighting the year were field trips to Frederick and Nelson's Art Gallery and 1961 Scholastic Art Exhibits, the Otto Seligman Art Gallery, and the Henry Art Gallery.

Another highlight was a visit by Mike Bathum, an Enumclaw graduate, who displayed his drawings and gave a lecture on art at the University of Washington.

In future years Art Club projects will be remembered because of the institution of a new officer in Art Club. Melissa Knight, the first Historian, took the job of keeping the records.

Working on the stage decorations for Christmas Concert, a major Art Club project, are Sharon Melburn and Mrs. Dihel.

Silk screening many programs and posters was a tedious and messy job, but the attractive results made it worthwhile! Working on one silk screening project are C. Silvestri, S. Melburn, and C. Ogard.

Pepsters Promote Sportsmanship — Spirit

Looking over the new constitution adopted by Pep Club this year are: SEATED: Linda Berilla, secretary-treasurer, and Lorilyn Greschok, president. STANDING: Barb Spangler, vice president, and Miss Neth, adviser.

To promote sportsmanship and support the team was the major goal of Pep Club.

This year's Pep Club has done much to carry out its goal. Members of the club have attended all home games in football and basketball dressed in their gay uniforms and sat in their own section. Many pepsters attended some away games as a group. Many of the members have also had a part in selling booster pins, making posters which promoted sportsmanship and team spirit, making and selling popcorn at all home games, and taking part in pep skits at assemblies. The club also did the cleaning up of the gym after all home basketball games, decorated the goal posts during football season, and sponsored the last sock dance of the year.

Helping tremendously to carry out Pep Club activities efficiently was the Pep Club cabinet and the officers along with their adviser, Miss Neth.

Glitter of White Snow Sets E. H. S. Ski Scene

Approximately fifty to seventy-five Enumclaw Junior-Senior High School skiers, including both experts and learners, boarded buses at the Kibler School every Saturday morning to travel to Ski Acres at Snoqualmie Pass for a day filled with frolic and fun.

The weekly trips this year were again sponsored by the White River Recreation Council, under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Allen. Mr. Allen drove a bus and gave free instruction to any student requesting it. Mr. Jack Billinsgley drove the second bus when it was required.

The skiing program at E.H.S. is spearheaded by the Ski Club which has about sixty charter members. For the benefit of Ski Club members movies were sometimes shown after school to help better their skiing techniques and maintain interest. The Ski Club also staged races for members so that they might compare their skills with those of their comrades.

Pepsters Strive for Enthusiasm in E.H.S.

"Pep" was certainly the word for this year's yell and song staff. New ideas, coupled with many hours of practice, gave our pep staff an "A-number-one rating." The brisk spirit of yell leaders Kathy Darby, Sharon Melburn, Gretchen Allen, and La Vena Cavanaugh inspired the fans, who in turn cheered the Hornets on to many victories. Spirited songs rang through the air with the leadership of Jane Grafton, Cheri Ahmann, Diane Smith, and Gloria Robison as they performed their complicated steps. Alternates — Mary Warner, Barb Spangler, Addy Limbo, and Michelle Harp — were always ready to step in when needed.

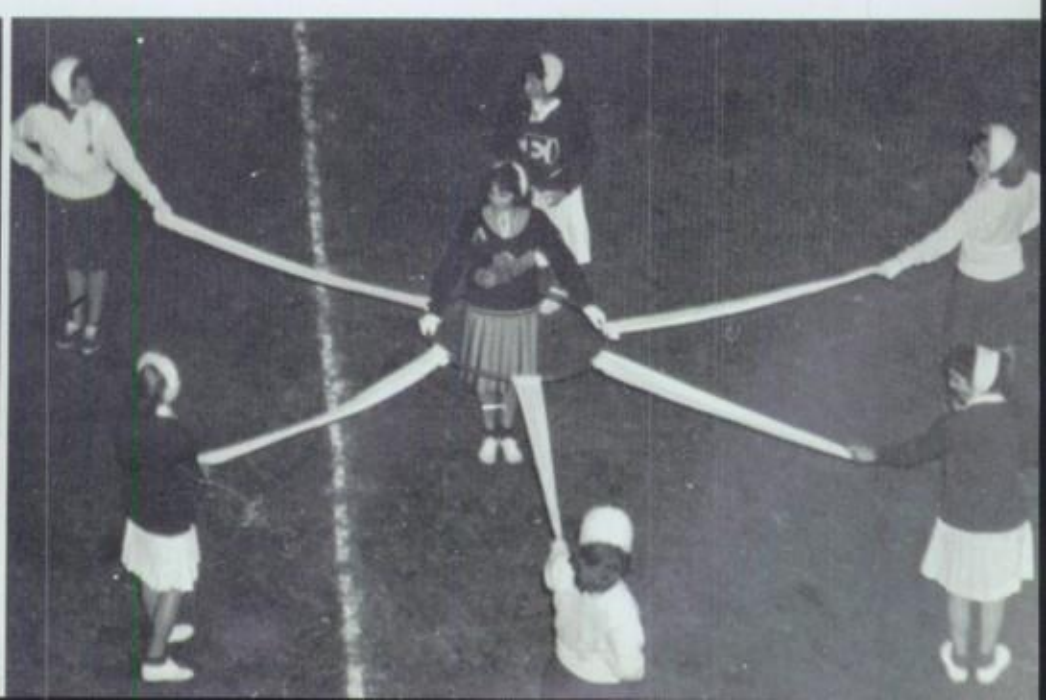
Junior high yell leaders Patsy Prince, Ellen Fant, and Vicki Dyer and song leaders Judy Wilson, Virginia Porter, and Marilyn Rossman, worked tediously at perfecting their yells and songs. These peppy girls, in their striking red and white uniforms, were constantly boosting the Chieftain's morale and keeping up the school spirit.

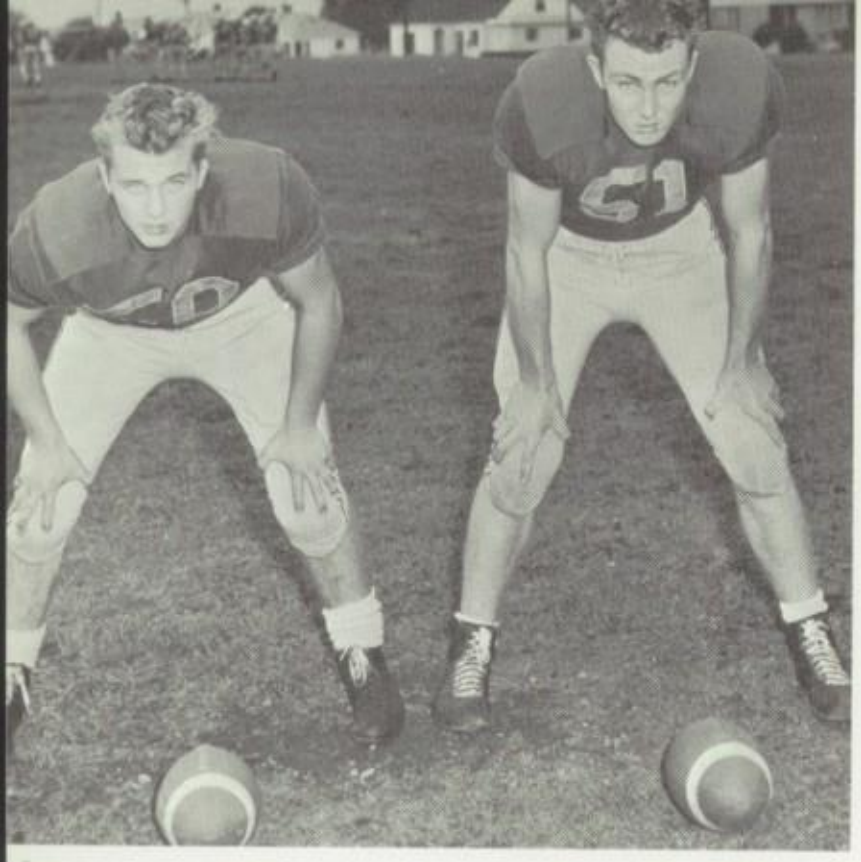
Providing sparkling half-time entertainment was Enumclaw's single majorette, Carolyn Fant. Carolyn delighted the spectators with her flashing routines and talented manner with the baton.

Majorette Carolyn Fant displays one of the snappy routines which spectators enjoyed at the half-time activities during football and basketball games.

Caught in a pose of happiness were four members of our E.H.S. pep staff — La Vena Cavanaugh, Sharon Melburn, Jane Grafton, and Gloria Robison — as they lent their enthusiasm and excitement to fans and team members alike.

Many spectacular stunts and routines, such as this one, entertained the huge crowd at the 1960 Homecoming as the junior and senior high yell staffs joined with the Enumclaw band to present a wonderful half-time program.





CENTERS — Two aggressive centers were an inspiration to our team spirit this year. Pictured are: Bob Selland, No. 50, and Gordon Pogerelc, No. 51.

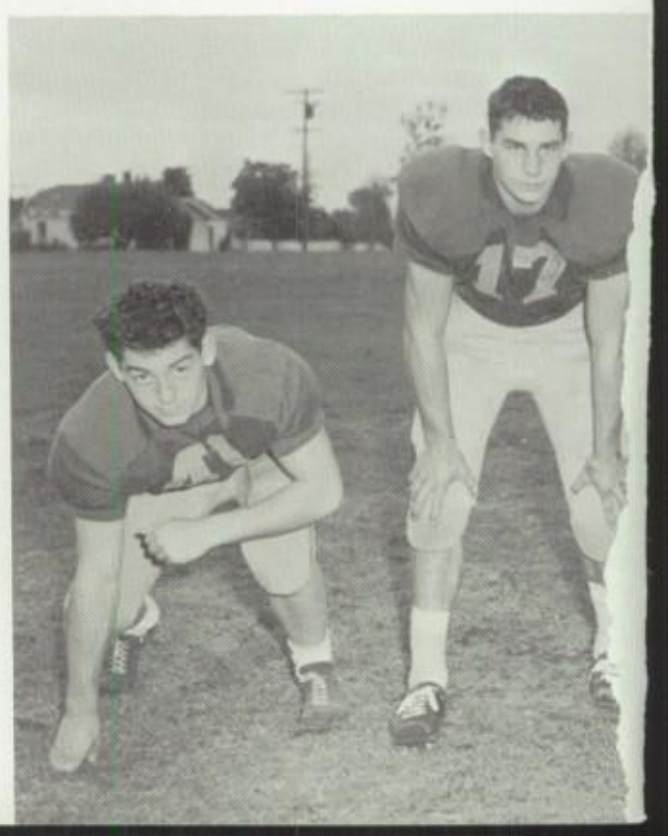
Seniors Led

The 1960 Hornet football squad, 32 strong, was given power and inspiration by eleven senior boys.

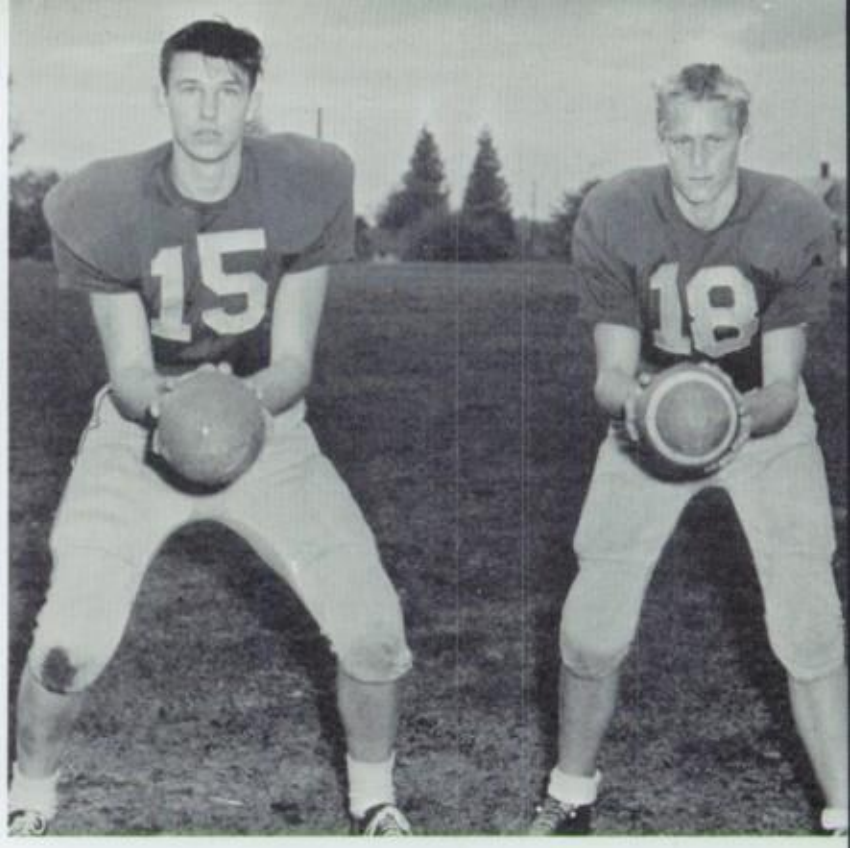
Our team would have been lost but for our "speed ball," Bud Kirk, and Bill Johnson, our tall, blonde, 190 pound halfback and P.A.T. specialist. Two reserve senior halfbacks were Carl Erickson and Fred Carlson.

When quarterback Dick Kovacevich called his signals, he knew he had a capable man, center Bob Selland, to pass him the ball safely every time.

FULLBACKS — "M-m-m look at those shoulders!" was the comment of admiring girls as our fullbacks posed for this picture. Pictured are:



relc, No. 51; Louis Draghi, No. 63; Don Carden, No. 74; Mel Mitchell, No. 64; and Dan Johnson, No. 84. BACKS — Bud Kirk, No. 40; Dick Kovacevich, No. 15; Dale Ehler, No. 17; and Bill Johnson, No. 46.



QUARTERBACKS — Expert signal calling, fine passing, and hard running were the abilities of our agile quarterbacks. They are: Dick Kovacevich, No. 15, and Jim Mitchell, No. 18.

1960 Varsity

The line was greatly strengthened by the charging two small but powerful guards, Louis Draghi and Dave Grove. And when our 200 pound tackles, Doug Morris and Don Carden, decided to slow down an opponent — he stopped!

Giving strength to the 1960 Varsity were eleven juniors and eleven sophomores. Although the main load was carried by the seniors, there were five juniors that were regular starters or saw regular action. They were: Dick Wetton, Dale Ehler, Gordon Pogerelc, Mel Mitchell, and Dan Johnson.

TACKLES — "Push 'em back, push 'em back, way-y-y back!" was the motto of our seven powerful tackles. Pictured are: Rick Chase, No. 76; Don Carden, No. 74; Doug Morris, No. 70; Skip Johnson, No. 71; Mel Mitchell, No. 64; Mason Sorenson, No. 73; and Greg Ford, No. 90.

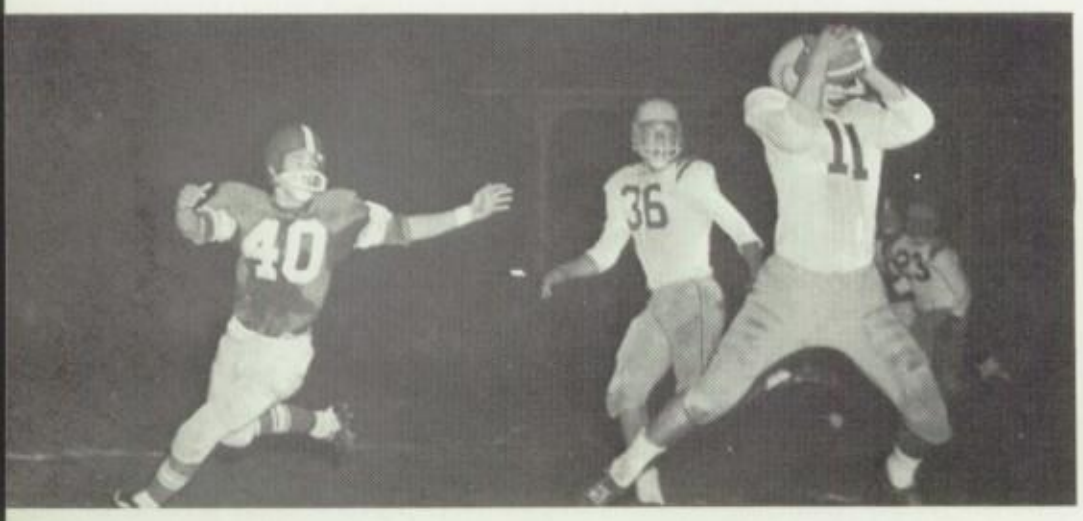
Enumclaw Fights

Making last minute alterations on the different football formations, are Coaches Cliff Hash, Wes Borreson (Head coach), and Frank Lancaster.



Dale Ehler (11), junior halfback who made honorable mention in the all PSL selections, intercepts a pass which helped the strong Hornet eleven to clinch a 21—0 upset over Clover Park. Bill Johnson (36) comes up to block for Ehler.

In the Clover Park game Dan Johnson made a desperate try to gather this pass in but failed as it was overthrown at the 10 yard line.

Speedy left half Bud Kirk, all conference 2nd team, romps for a large gain due to a nice block by Dan Johnson in the Franklin Pierce battle.

Lou Draghi (63) is too late to block two Highline tacklers who bring down Bill Johnson — but not until after he made a nice gain. There is absolutely no truth to the rumor that Johnson and Bud Kirk (on ground) were playing leap frog.

Senior halfback Bill Johnson, who made second team all-conference, breaks through the middle for a score in the Clover Park game. Clover Park was a 14 point favorite going into the game, but the Hornets upset the Warriors 21—0. It was the first defeat in eight years for the Warriors on their home field.

The basketball season of 1960-1961 was spiced with the untiring efforts of our seven senior and four junior boys. These boys showed magnificent sportsmanship in every game, whether they won or lost. Their great ambition and a will to win was attributed to the fine coaching of Ralph Sill.

The seven senior players will be missed next year but many good underclassmen will take their places. Four lettermen will be returning, and Coach Sill will be getting some real sharpshooters from Mr. Radliff's J.V. Squad.

The Sophomore squad, under the expert supervision of Coach Frank Lancaster, had a winning season and showed a fighting spirit that gives promise of winning Hornet teams in the years ahead.

The J.V. Team had one of the most successful seasons in years. Members of the squad were: ROW 1: Ed Wendt, Roy Darby, Gordon Pogorelc, Frank Mihelich, and John Francis. ROW 2: Theron Morgan, Joe Leinonen, Ken Koenig, Wilber Hartill, Bill Sherwood, and Coach Radliff.

1961 Hornet Hoop Squad Had Tough 17 Game Schedule

With only two returning lettermen, Kovacevich and Houghton, the 1960-61 Hornet basketball team had rough going in the tough Puget Sound League and won only five games while losing eleven. Despite their inexperience the EHS cagers had a good start in league action, winning three of the first five games, but then the competition got tougher and the Hornets lost 9 of the next 11 games.

Next year's varsity will have better prospects with four returning lettermen (Houghton, Erickson, Strom, Ehler) and three B squad members (Darby, Francis, and Pogerelc) who saw action in five varsity games.

POST SEASON: EHS Faculty 41, Buckley Faculty 40; Seniors 44, Juniors 36.

Carl Erickson, Mike Ulrich and Greg Ford, hard-working managers, kept everything running smoothly for the Hornets throughout the season. They also had to scrap pretty hard to fight off players trying a pre-game raid on the oranges provided by local stores for an after-game treat.

Kent defeated Puyallup 64—61 in the playoff for the PSL Championship.

Roy Darby, No. 12, who was the top "B" Squad scorer with 150 points in 12 games, lays in two points that helped the JV'S defeat Puyallup 50—45.

Our cheerleaders watch with enthusiasm as the varsity squad breaks through the Pep Club sign and race onto the floor before the game with the Puyallup Vikings.

Although the photographer caught what looks like a perfect check, Bill Johnson, No. 44, was fouled on this play, as the up-raised arm of the referee clearly indicates.

Forming the strength and backbone of this year's tennis team were these returning senior lettermen. FRONT: Judy Tice, Dee Campbell, and Kathy Weston. BACK: Jim Myhre and Paul Gunderson.

Participating in the six junior high golf matches were: FRONT: L. Jensen, J. Spithill, and R. Miller. BACK: P. Mihelich, B. Jensen, and J. Farman.

Twelve matches faced this small but capable golf squad. FRONT: C. Whitley, G. Okeson, and B. Selland. BACK: K. Hansen, and R. Lennon.

The '60-61' tennis squad has high hopes of bringing home their 11th PSL championship in twelve consecutive years. ROW 1: B. Parmenter, S. Graham, D. Leaf, K. Weston, J. Craig, G. Allen, D. Golfers, Tennismen Swing Hot Scores

The 1961 Hornet tennis team showed spirit and great promise of carrying on Enumclaw's record as perenial PSL tennis champs, but a great Clover Park team barely defeated the Hornets 3-2 to take the 1961 championship.

Coach Radliff, coaching the Hornets for the first time, spent tireless hours building skills and experience that made for a good season this year and perhaps another championship next year.

Coach Hash's varsity golf team had a rough year, but the junior high squad gave promise of a bright future for E.H.S. as it won every match, facing and defeating about 12 other teams during the year.

Hornets 2nd in PSL Southern Division

Two years ago (1959) Enumclaw defeated Clover Park in a playoff for the Southern Division Championship and went on to win the PSL championship. Since then the Warriors have more than gained revenge for last year and again this year they took the championship and Enumclaw was second.

The championship this year was decided May 18 on the Pete's Pool field. The score was all even, 2-2, in the last inning but the Warriors pushed over two runs which gave them the championship and left the Hornets in a tie for second place in the final standings.

Gordy Pogorelc, hard hitting first baseman, is a top junior player who will return to the Hornet varsity next year.

Sixteen A squad and ten B squad games faced the senior high baseball team this season. Pictured are the 16 players with Coach Osborne. KNEELING: D. Ehler, G. Strom, T. Maks, D. Morris, E. Wendt, G. The 1961 Hornet track team made a good showing in four dual meets and one triangular meet. Pictured are: Front Row: W. Hartill, M. Johnson, C. Ruppert, B. Ollom, R. Erickson, B. Kirk, T. Brown, C. Broken Records Highlight Track Season

John Howells, junior weight man, competed in all varsity meets and hopes to place regularly next year.

With 13 underclassmen and only 4 seniors, the track team made only a fair showing this season, but a trio of trackmen made the season successful by setting many new records. Bud Kirk set a new EHS record by jumping 21' 10" at Sumner and a new Enumclaw field record of 21' 3½". Terry Brown set two EHS school records, running the 440 in 53.3 and the 880 in 2:03.3. Dan Johnson set a new school record of 23.5 in the 220. Another school record was set by the 880 relay team composed of Brown, B. Johnson, Kirk, and D. Johnson.

Brown and Kirk seemed headed for the state track meet but hard luck stopped both. Brown's competition for the year was stopped by a pulled muscle in the conference meet and Kirk scratched in a jump in the district meet which would have sent him to state.

Terry Brown (880) and Bud Kirk (broad jump) put on good track performance this year and both set new field and school records.

Enthusiasm Marks Big Turnout In Junior High Spring Sports

That's a homerun swing! Bruce Kalin, freshman pitcher, looks like a professional as he raps out a four-bagger.

A cold rainy spring did not dampen the enthusiasm of more than a hundred eighth and ninth graders who turned out for track, baseball, and tennis this year. Despite numbers and enthusiasm all three junior high squads had only a fair season, breaking about even in all games and matches.

The junior high tennis team posted its wins against odds for, being the only school with a junior high squad, its competition was against senior high "B" squads.

Although there were more than a hundred participants in junior high sports this year, Coaches Thomas (baseball), Borreson (track), and Radliff (tennis) expect to have an even larger turnout next year for the seventh grade joins the junior high as grades 10, 11, and 12 move to the new senior high school building.

Jr. High Gridders Were Undefeated

The boys on this year's junior high football squad, under Coach Frank Osborne, gained valuable experience as they went through the season undefeated, winning two and losing four. Those players who will continue on to our senior high team should be great assets to the varsity in the next three years.

The eighth graders who turned out for football this year showed they had the stamina to "stay in there and fight!" It takes many long tiring hours to become good in anything and football is no exception. By starting out in their first year of junior high they should be ready for varsity competition when they are sophomores.

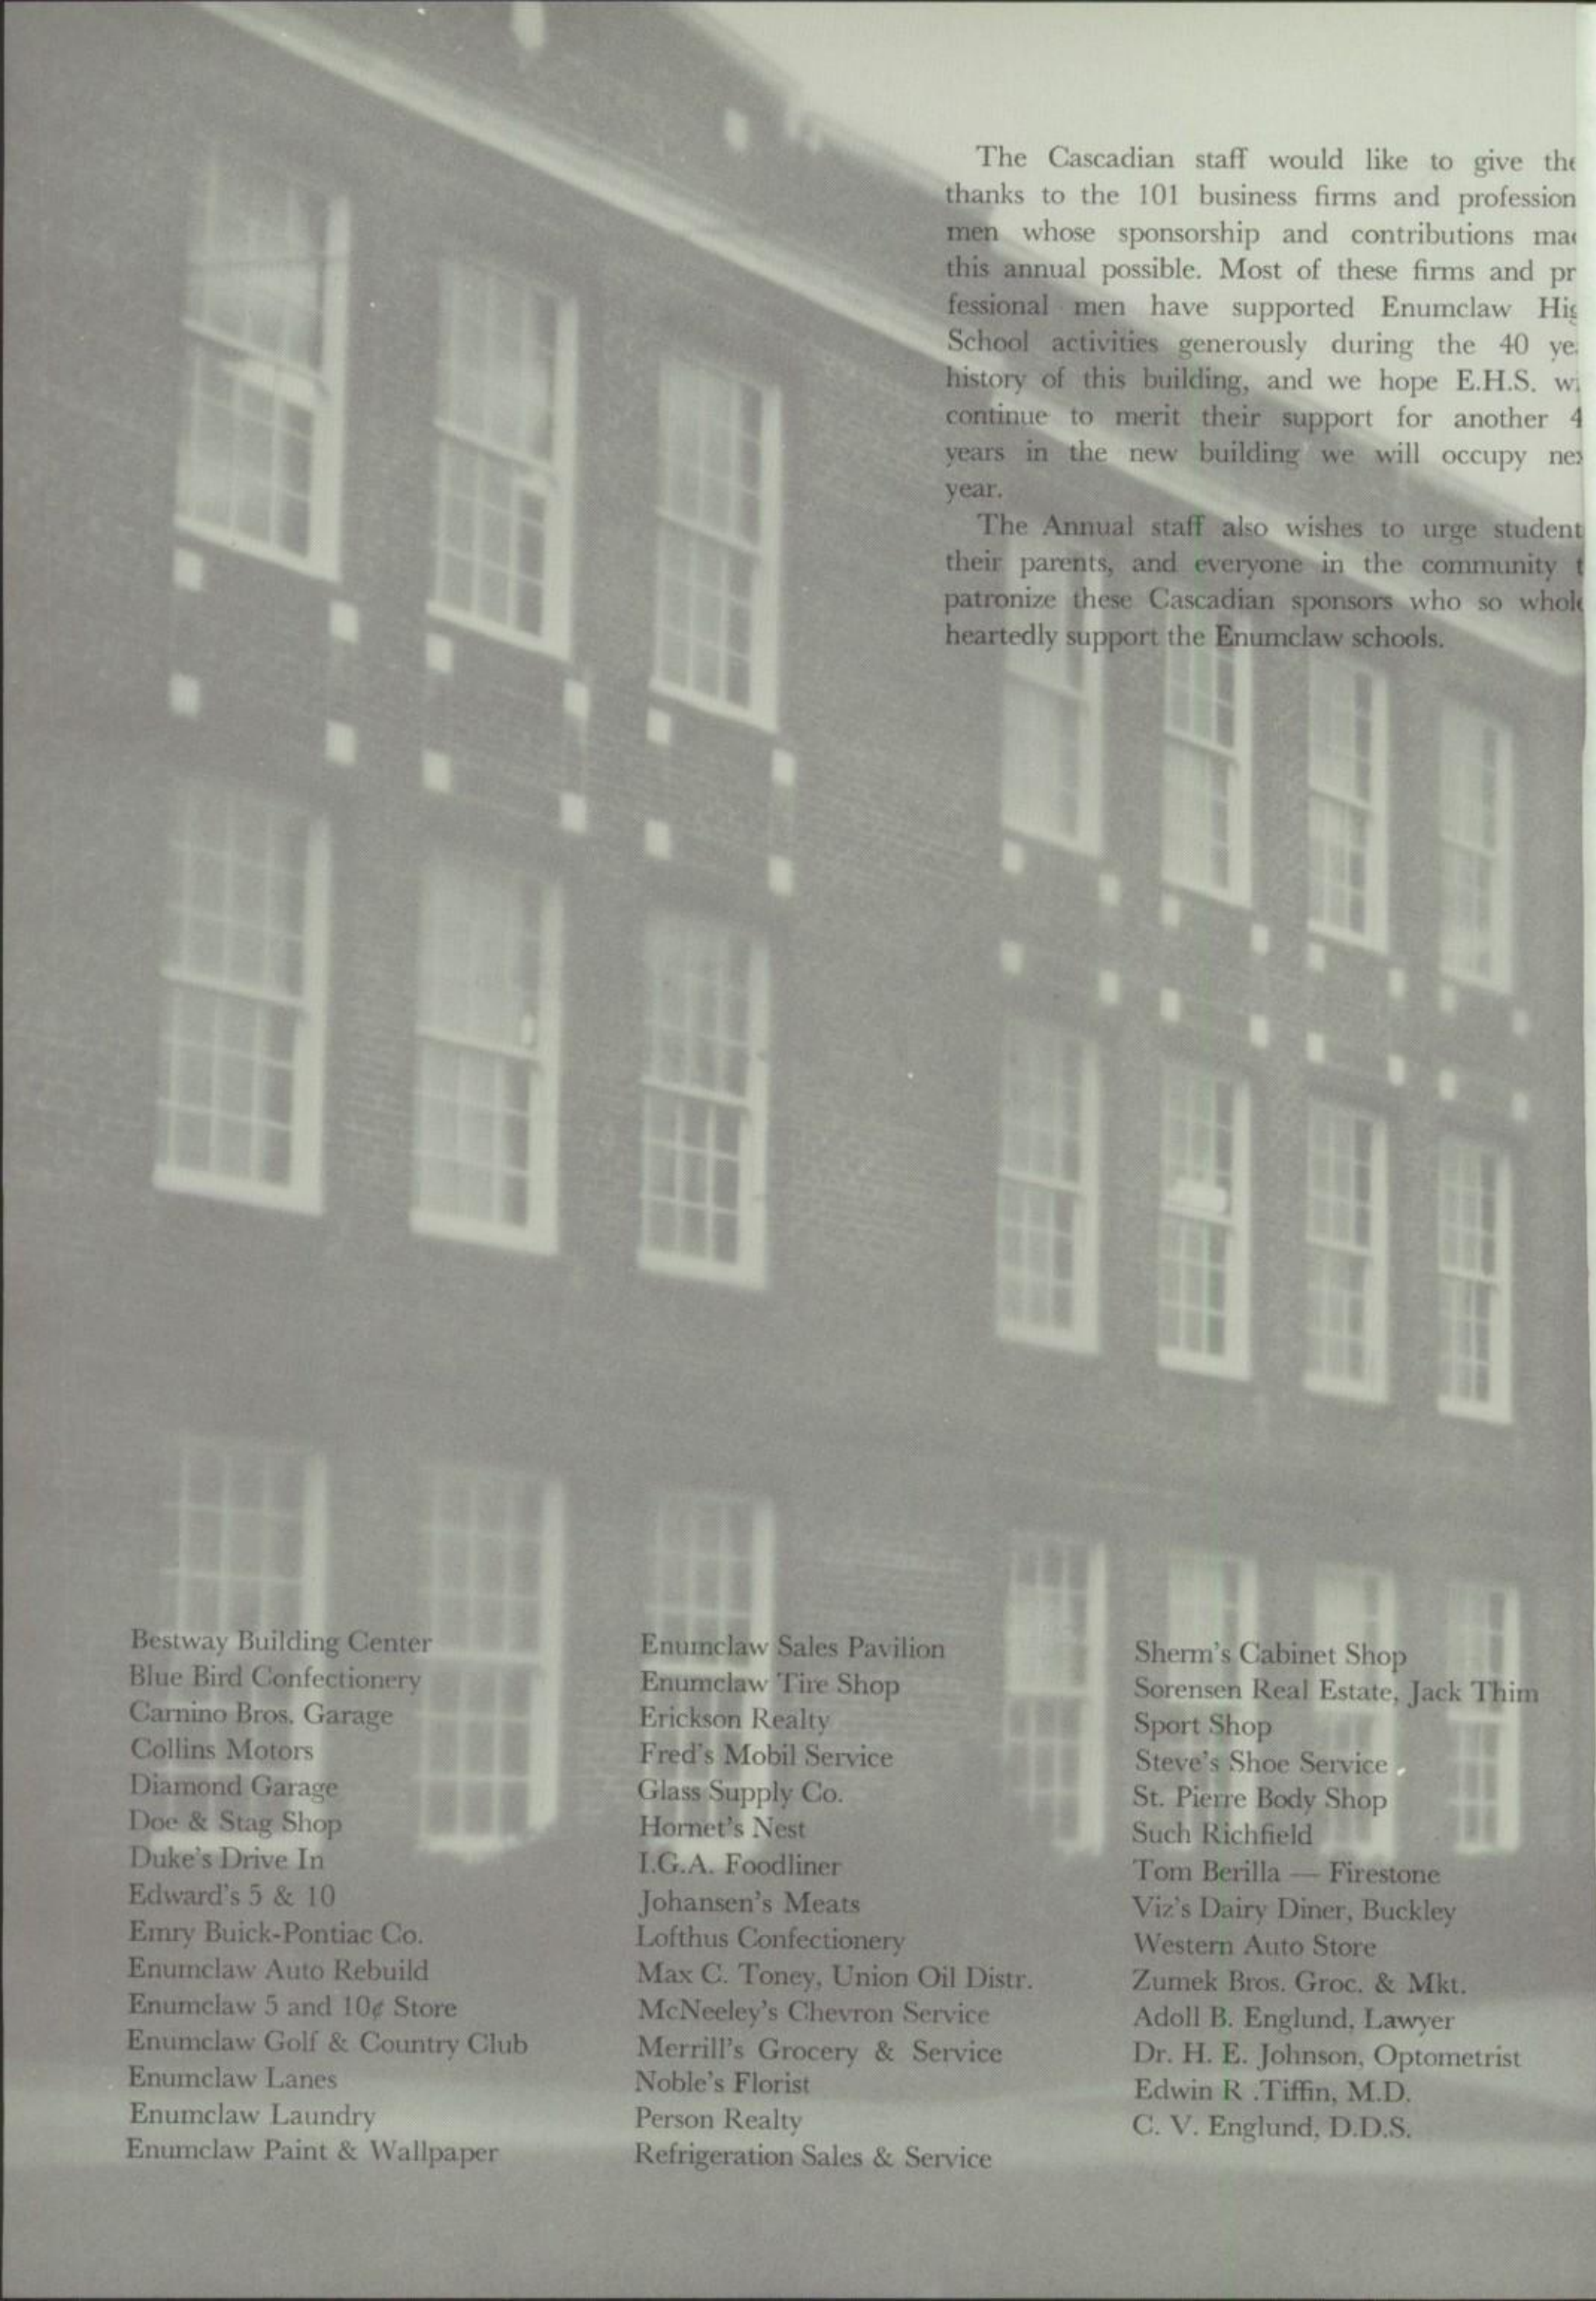
CASCADIAN, PART III. As we come to the section of advertising, index, acknowledgments and autographs, the final section of the 1961 Cascadian, we leave our coaches dreaming in the easy chairs provided by the athletic director. About all they can do now is dream, for the new high school will not have a gymnasium or football field for a few years . . . but when their dreams come true Enumclaw should have some of the best athletic facilities in the state.

Autographs

The Hornet track men, like Rick Erickson (above), closed the Enumclaw sports year always showing the same fight and determination that brought Enumclaw upset victory over the Clover Park football team.

The high spot of the football season last fall was Enumclaw's astonishing 21—0 upset of Clover Park — the first loss for the Warriors on their home field in eight years. Shown in action are Dale Ehler (far left), Dave Grove (61), Gordy Pogorelc (50), and Dan Johnson (84).



The Cascadian staff would like to give the thanks to the 101 business firms and profession men whose sponsorship and contributions mad this annual possible. Most of these firms and pr fessional men have supported Enumclaw Hig School activities generously during the 40 ye history of this building, and we hope E.H.S. wi continue to merit their support for another 4 years in the new building we will occupy nex year.

The Annual staff also wishes to urge student their parents, and everyone in the community t patronize these Cascadian sponsors who so whole heartedly support the Enumclaw schools.

These We Thank . . .

These two shining characters, Slim and Chubby, look pleased with their importance in the 1961 Cascadian — but we give all the credit to Marilyn Bush, BELOW, who spent many hours sketching them in dozens of poses.

Here it is . . . finished. Bricks (pictures) piled, mortar (copy) in place, "An Epic of Progress" is complete. This completeness is a result of the cooperation and perseverance of many people. I now have the pleasure to pause and express my appreciation to these people who helped make this 1961 Cascadian possible. These I thank:

. . . Mr. Campbell, our adviser, for spending many hours checking our copy at nights and on weekends and for his patience in a somewhat hectic class.

. . . Marilyn Bush, who created Slim and Chubby (our comic workmen) and whose brilliant imagination and skilled pen has added so much to the Cascadian.

. . . Mr. Jim Palm, representative of the American Yearbook Company, whose help was invaluable in completing our 1961 Cascadian.

. . . the business and professional men of Enumclaw for their advertising and sponsorship.

. . . the administration and faculty for their cooperation.

. . . Mr. Bannister, official Cascadian photographer who cheerfully helped us meet many rushed deadlines.

. . . Denny Collins and Bob Thomson, our student photographers, whose skill and "overtime" helped us meet deadlines.

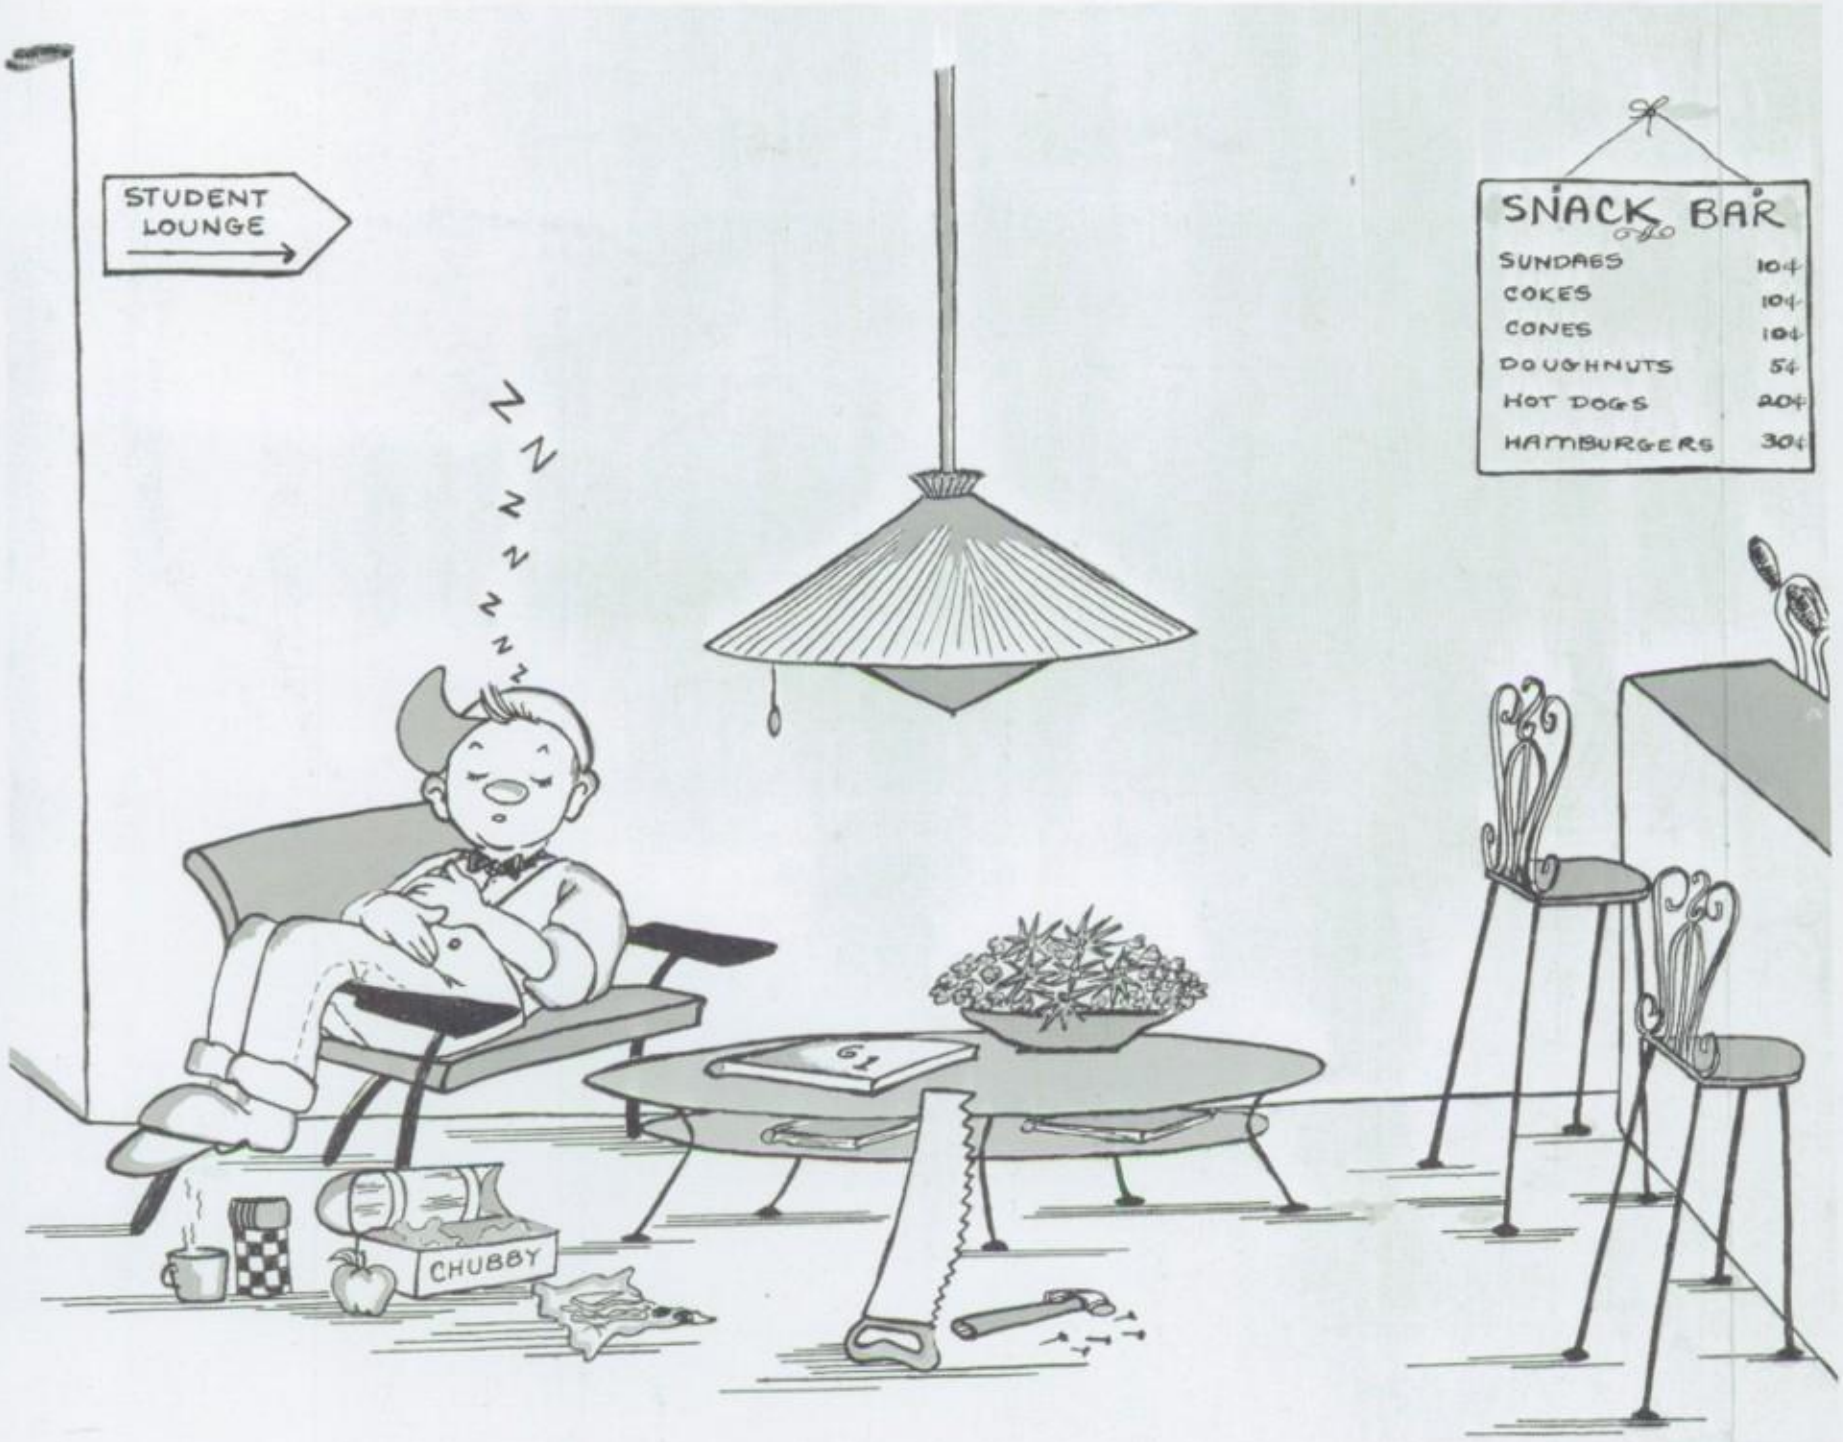
. . . the staff for the many hours of hard work without ever letting down. I hope all the staff members have found enjoyment and satisfaction in a job well done. They were a wonderful group who kept spirits high during the pressure of deadlines.

. . . finally, may I thank the Enumclaw High School for creating the memories contained in this yearbook, and for giving me the opportunity to have served as editor. The position has been a pleasant and rewarding experience which I shall never forget.

Sharee Knock
1961 Cascadian Editor

Aside from the regular staff, the annual class was fortunate in having Joyce Mosier who assisted the students with stories, and Gary Houghton and Roy Darby who helped with the sports captions.

Hard at work as always we find our adviser, Mr. Campbell, and Mr. Palm, representative of American Yearbook Company. Even over a cup of coffee they discuss, discuss, and discuss the annual.



By next September Chubby will no longer be taking his siesta in the student lounge, and during '60-61' it will swarm with students as meetings are held, plans made, goals set, and accomplishments discussed.

At this time next year it will be the place where you will gather to get autographs in your 1962 Cascadian — but this year we urge you to use the following pages to get your classmates to sign the final Cascadian to be produced in the building that has been Enumclaw High School from 1921 to 1961.

Future

The future Enumclaw High School will provide complete educational facilities in a well-planned group of beautiful buildings set against the background of the Cascade Mountains and Mt. Rainier. It may be years before this plan is completed but when it is Enumclaw will be proud of having one of the most modern and beautiful high schools in the State of Washington.
